DECLARATION OF KURTIS MASON IN SUPPORT OF OPPOSER'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

I, Kurtis Mason, make the following declaration:

1. I am the Trademarks & Licensing Administrator for Oklahoma State University. I am over the age of twenty-one; I am competent to make this Declaration, and the facts set forth in this Declaration are based on my personal knowledge and on documents and records maintained by Oklahoma State University.

2. Oklahoma State University (the "University") was founded in 1890 and is the flagship institution of the Oklahoma State University System. The University consists of ten different colleges and offers over 350 undergraduate and graduate educational programs, in addition to athletic programs. The University has offered educational and athletic goods and services for over a century enrolls a total of 32,000 students between its main Stillwater, Oklahoma campus and its smaller satellite campuses.

3. The University owns two federal registrations of the Pistol Pete caricature drawing of the University's COWBOY Mascot, including Reg. No. 1,602,422 for the mark OSU

& Design, which has now become incontestable under 15 U.S.C. § 1065. True and correct copies of the certificates of registration, as well as a chart of these registrations are attached as Exhibit A.

4. Since as early as 1923, the students and alumni of the University referred to themselves as the COWBOYS. That year, students were inspired by U.S. deputy marshal Frank B. "Pistol Pete" Eaton's appearance in a local parade and adopted him and the COWBOYS identity as their new symbol and mascot.

5. The COWBOYS nickname was adopted quickly by the University community, and in 1924, sports journalists that regularly covered college events began referring to the University's athletic teams as the COWBOYS.

6. Until Frank "Pistol Pete" Eaton's death in 1958, he regularly appeared at University events as a living symbol of the University's COWBOYS identity and became a beloved member of the University community. In 1984, the University officially adopted "Pistol Pete" as the embodiment of its COWBOY mascot ("the COWBOY Mascot").

7. Building on the reputation of the University's COWBOY Mascot, the University has used the name COWBOYS and COWGIRLS to refer to the University's athletic teams.

8. The University's COWBOYS and COWGIRLS athletic teams have enjoyed tremendous success over the years, having won 48 NCAA National Championship titles, ranking it the fourth-most in the country, as well as 140 individual NCAA National Championship titles. For almost a century, the University's wrestling program has dominated college wrestling. The team's first wrestling coach, who is a distinguished member of the National Wrestling Hall of Fame, is credited with pioneering the sport of modern wrestling. The University's wrestling team has won 34 NCAA National Championship titles, most recently for four consecutive years in 2003-2006, and holds the record for having the most championship titles collected by a school in any sport. The University's COWBOYS basketball team has also had a very successful history, advancing to the Final Four of the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship six times and winning the title in two consecutive years. The University's COWBOYS football team has established itself as a major college football contender, participating in 18 bowl games, with five appearances in the last six years, and winning ten conference championships.

9. Through this success of the University's COWBOYS and COWGIRLS athletic teams, the COWBOYS Marks have been featured on television broadcasts and in print and online media nationwide for decades, exposing millions of viewers to the University's well-known COWBOYS Marks.

10. For decades, and prior to Applicant's adoption of the COWBOYADE Mark, the University used (and continues to use) its COWBOYS Marks in connection with educational and athletic goods and services. The University has used its COWBOYS Marks in connection with a wide variety of goods and services commonly associated with a university as an educational institution and its athletic department.

11. The University's extensive use of its COWBOYS Marks includes, for example, Internet websites, programs for sports events, athletics schedules, flags and pennants, sports team rosters, media guides, fundraising, student publications, and camps and special events for students and fans. True and correct copies of representative print-outs from Internet websites featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit B. True and correct copies of representative samples of the covers and pages from programs for sports events featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit C. True and correct copies of representative samples of athletics schedules featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit D. True and correct copies of representative samples of sports team rosters featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit E. True and correct copies of representative samples of covers and pages from media guides featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit F. True and correct copies of representative samples of fundraising literature and materials featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit G. True and correct copies of a student newsletter and information regarding student publications featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit H. True and correct copies of representative samples of Internet print-outs and promotional materials for camps and special events featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit I.

12. The University and its COWBOY Mascot have been featured in popular magazines, including having appeared twice on the cover of Sports Illustrated magazine this year. True and correct copies of representative samples of magazine covers featuring the University's COWBOY Mascot are attached as Exhibit J.

13. Many books have been written discussing the history of the University, its athletic teams, and its iconic COWBOY Mascot. True and correct copies of the covers and pages of books and print-outs from websites offering books featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit K.

14. The University maintains an extensive licensing program and has licensed its COWBOYS Marks in connection with a wide variety of goods, including food and drink items such as coffee, bottled water, lollipops, various sauces and seasonings, and tortilla chips, as well as food- and drink-related items such as glassware, dishware, and sport and travel beverage bottles. The University also has licensed use of the University's Marks for use in connection vitamin-enriched energy drinks and soft drinks. True and correct copies of representative examples of licensed uses of the University's COWBOYS Marks, including in connection with vitamin-enriched energy drinks and soft drinks, are attached as Exhibit L.

15. Food and beverage products are sold daily on the University's campus and at University events in close association with the University's COWBOYS Marks, including through OSU COWBOY DINING, which provides food and beverage service to the Club and Suite levels of the University's football stadium and to the University's Athletic Department for special events. True and correct copies of representative examples of Internet print-outs and posters promoting food and beverages sold on the University's campus and at University events featuring the University's COWBOYS Marks are attached as Exhibit M.

16. The University and its licensees sell products bearing the University's COWBOYS Marks in virtually every channel of trade, including but not limited to wholesale outlets, retail stores, specialty stores, sporting-goods stores, and via retail websites on the Internet.

17. The University sells to consumers of all kinds, including students, fans, and alumni of the University.

I declare under penalty of perjury of the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

Dated: October 6, 2009.

Several Cowboy Wrestlers At World Team Trials This Weekend

Blunt, Scott, Pendleton, Porter, Mecca all in action in Cowboy Brawl

May 24, 2003

STILLWATER, Okla. - Current and former members of the Oklahoma State wrestling team will be in action this weekend at the U.S. Senior World Team Trials in Stillwater, Okla. The trials will be held at the Oklahoma State Fairgrounds from May 24-26.

There is action in the 119 lb. weight class. Current OSU wrestlers include Blunt, Scott, Pendleton, Porter, Mecca, and five who actually compete. These include Blunt, Scott, Pendleton, Porter, Mecca, and five who actually compete. These include Blunt, Scott, Pendleton, Porter, Mecca, and five who actually compete.

Mecca and Blunt are both considered as strong candidates to earn a berth in the world team, as Mecca is the top-ranked wrestler in his weight class based on his record at U.S. Nationals in last year's April and Blunt was the runner-up at his own nationals. Blunt is currently ranked 10th in the world and Blunt is currently ranked 10th in the world.

Cowboy Wrestling Dominating At U.S. Junior Freestyle Championships

Day one action at the FILA U.S. Junior Freestyle Wrestling Championships wrapped up Friday with three current or future Oklahoma State wrestlers in the finals in their respective weight classes and a fourth OSU wrestler vying for third in his weight class.

LAS VEGAS - Day one action at the FILA U.S. Junior Freestyle Wrestling Championships wrapped up Friday with three current or future Oklahoma State wrestlers in the finals in their respective weight classes and a fourth OSU wrestler vying for third in his weight class. Current cowboys Jordan Oliver (100 kilograms) and Alex Meade (74 kilograms) are joined by Oklahoma State signee Chris Perry (84 kilograms) in the finals, with OSU signee Ladd Rupp wrestling for third at 55 kilos. Current Cowboy Chris McNeil is also competing at the event, and will wrestle for seventh place at 66 kilos.

Story Photo

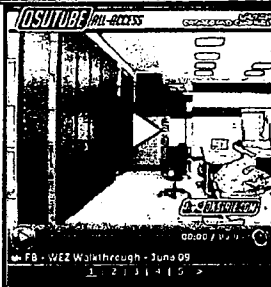

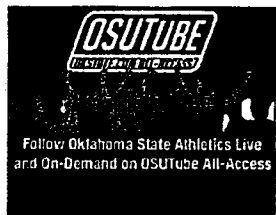

The winners of Saturday's title bouts will automatically qualify for the finals at the U.S. Junior World Team Trials. Making things more interesting is the fact that Oklahoma State assistant Eric Guivera will coach the U.S. Junior World Team as it trains for and competes at the Junior World Championships in Ankara, Turkey this summer.

Oliver was dominant on Friday, winning each of his four bouts in overwhelming fashion. The Easton, Pa., native opened things up with a 4-0, 5-1 decision over Iowa State freshman Anthony Waller in the first round. He followed that up with a 6-0, 7-0 technical fall win over Penn State's Tyler Salsman and a 1-0, 7-0 pounding of Boise State's Brian Owen. In the semifinals, Oliver pinned Iowa's Matt McDonough just 12 seconds in to the second period to set up tomorrow's title bout against Iowa State's Andrew Lang.

While Oliver racked up big scores, Meade was also dominant and went unscored upon in each of his four bouts. He was a 3-0, 2-0 winner over Northwestern's Jason Welch in the first round before claiming a 6-0, 8-0 technical fall win over Coker Community College's Billy Goldsberry in the second round. Meade added a comfortable 5-0, 6-0 win over Oklahoma's Marcus Bennett, then pinned California high school standout Patrick Martinez at the 1:06 mark of the second period to advance to the semifinals, where he rolled to a 2-0, 6-0 win over Iowa State's Matt Brown to set up Saturday's title bout against Columbia's Eren Civan.

Stillwater HS senior and Oklahoma State signee Chris Perry entered the event as one of the favorites in his weight class and did not disappoint, bagging a 4-0, 6-0 win over Simon Fraser's Clete Hanson in the first round. He came back with a 3-0, 3-1 second-round win over Iowa signee Ethen Lofthouse. Perry followed that up with a resounding 5-0, 6-0 win over Navy's Luke Robertus in the quarterfinals before advancing into the title bout with a 1-2, 2-0, 1-0 win over Nebraska's Josh Linnen in the semis.

Each of OSU's three finalists, plus Rupp and McNeil, will be in action tomorrow.

SIDELINES

From the OSU wrestling team's perspective, the U.S. Junior Freestyle Championships are a great opportunity to showcase the talent of the OSU wrestling team. The team is currently ranked 1st in the nation and is looking to continue its dominance at the U.S. Junior World Team Trials.

Cowboys From A Distance

OSU 0634

All nine of OSU's competitors at the NCAA Championships earned automatic berths by their performances at the Big 12 Championships. Junior 285-pounder Jared Rosholt placed fourth at the NCAA Championships last year, with senior 125-pounder Obenson Blanc and senior 165-pounder Brandon Mason earning All-America honors in 2007.

Oklahoma State's NCAA Championships History

Cowboy wrestling has won 34 NCAA team championships, with OSU wrestlers combining to win 133 NCAA individual titles and earn 422 All-America honors. No other program even comes close to those gaudy numbers.

In the previous 78 years of the NCAA Championships, OSU never finished lower than seventh as a team and the Cowboys have never had fewer than two All-Americans. In fact, OSU has had three or more All-Americans in 75 of a possible 78 NCAA Championships.

Cowboys vs. the NCAA Field

As is always the case, Oklahoma State's wrestlers enter the NCAA Championships having already battled a full slate of opponents who they could see again in St. Louis.

The breakdown of how each Cowboy has fared against the competition they could potentially see at the NCAA Championships:

125: Obenson Blanc: 6-7 record

133: Chris Notte: 7-5 record (won 4 of last 6)

141: Jamal Parks: 4-8 record

157: Neil Erisman: 5-8 record (won 3 of last 4)

165: Brandon Mason: 7-9 record

174: Newly McSpadden: 7-7 record (won 4 of last 5)

184: Chris McNeil: 5-5 record

197: Clayton Foster: 9-5 record

285: Jared Rosholt: 15-4 record

OSU Coach John Smith From a Distance

John Smith stands firmly at or near the top of the list of greatest American wrestlers of all time, and his coaching achievements are putting him on the short list of great coaches as well.

In his 18th year leading his alma mater, Smith has guided the Cowboys to five NCAA team titles (1994, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006) and has coached 23 NCAA individual champions and 84 All-Americans. Additionally, he has coached the Pokes to 10 conference titles.

Current Cowboys NCAA Championships History

- 125: Obe Blanc - 2005 (DNP), 2006 (DNP), 2007 (6th)
- 133: Chris Notte - First appearance

Team Finish: Tied for fifth with Iowa State

- 125: Tyler Shinn - Did not place (1-2 record)
- 133: Coleman Scott - NCAA champion (5-0 record)
- 141: Nathan Morgan - Fourth place (4-2 record)
- 157: Newly McSpadden - Did not place (2-2 record)
- 165: Jake Dieffenbach - Did not place (1-2 record)
- 174: Brandon Mason - Did not place (3-2 record)
- 184: Jack Jensen - Seventh place (5-2 record)
- 285: Jared Rosholt - Fourth place (4-2 record)

Recapping the 2009 Big 12 Championships

The Cowboys placed fourth at the 2009 Big 12 Championships at the NU Coliseum in Lincoln, Neb., on March 7. OSU was led by junior Chris Notte, who finished second at 133 pounds.

OSU 0636

Catching Up With The Redshirts

Of the wrestlers pegged to redshirt this season, 125/133-pounder Jordan Oliver and 165-pounder Alex Meade rose to the top.

Oliver went 19-1 with nine wins by fall, two by major decision and five by technical fall.

Meade sported a 19-2 overall record that included two wins by fall, nine by major decision and two wins by technical fall.

Meade and Oliver combined for five open tournament titles this year (three for Oliver, two for Meade) and neither of the two Cowboy freshmen placed any lower than third in an open tournament this year.

A Peek Ahead

Next year's Oklahoma State roster will include at least seven wrestlers who won junior freestyle national championships in Fargo, N.D., during their prep careers.

Jamal Parks, Luke Ashmore, Albert White and Clayton Foster were all Fargo champions in 2006, with Jordan Oliver and Jon Morrison winning Fargo titles in 2007 and Chris Perry securing a championship in 2008. That number could increase this year, as multiple members of the incoming recruiting class have a legitimate chance of winning titles at the junior national championships.

Top-Notch Recruiting Class On The Way

Oklahoma State wrestling coach John Smith announced the signing of eight student-athletes to National Letters of Intent during the early signing period. The incoming class of signees is regarded as one of the nation's top recruiting classes and is heavy on in-state recruits.

The incoming class is highlighted by Chris Perry (Stillwater, Okla./Stillwater), Jon Morrison (Orland Park, Ill./Carl Sandburg), Dallas Bailey (Catoosa, Okla./Catoosa) and Albert White (Lynwood, Ill./Northern Iowa Area Community College), all of whom are considered blue chip national recruits. Both Perry and Morrison are ranked by major national publications as the No. 1 wrestlers in their respective weight classes going into their senior year, with Bailey ranked as the preseason No. 2 prep in the nation in his weight class. White is a 2008 junior college national champion who was 200-4 during his prep career at St. Rita HS in Chicago and has a Fargo national title on his resume.

Perry (No. 3), Bailey (No. 6) and Morrison (No. 9) are all ranked among revwrestling.com's top 10 recruits in the nation, regardless of weight class. No other school in the country has more than one wrestler from that list signed as part of this year's class.

This year's group of prep wrestlers in the state of Oklahoma is considered to be one of the best in recent memory, and the Cowboys succeeded in keeping the homegrown talent in-state, with Perry, Bailey, Blake Rosholt (Ponca City HS), Ladd Rupp (Perry HS), Stephen Swan (Perry HS) and Zach White (Woodward HS) all signing on to continue their wrestling careers at Oklahoma State.

Oklahoma State 357-pounder Neil Erisman picked up the most impressive win of the dual, topping No. 18 Hadley Harrison by a comfortable 6-1 margin. Erisman took Harrison down early in the first period and stopped a hard ride on him until the clock read zeroes. Erisman started the second period on bottom and escaped for the only scoring of the stanza. Harrison's lone point came with an escape to start the third period, but Erisman took him down a second time and rode him out for the remainder of the bout to add a riding time point and claim his second consecutive win over a ranked opponent.

STILLWATER, Okla. A- Oklahoma State wrestling coach John Smith announced the signing of seven student-athletes to National Letters of Intent today. The incoming class of signees is regarded as one of the nation's top recruiting classes and is heavy on in-state recruits.

Story Photo

The incoming class is highlighted by Chris Perry (Stillwater, Okla./Stillwater), Jon Morrison (Orland Park, Ill./Carl Sandburg), Dallas Bailey (Catoosa, Okla./Catoosa) and Albert White (Lynwood, Ill./Northern Iowa Area Community College), all of whom are considered blue chip national recruits. Both Perry and Morrison are ranked by major national publications as the No. 1 wrestlers in their respective weight classes going into their senior year, with Bailey ranked as the preseason No. 2 prep in the nation in his weight class. White is a 2008 junior college national champion who was 200-4 during his prep career at St. Rita HS in Chicago and has a Fargo national title on his resume.

Perry (No. 3), Bailey (No. 6) and Morrison (No. 9) are all ranked among revwrestling.com's top 10 recruits in the nation, regardless of weight class. No other school in the country has more than one wrestler from that list signed as part of this year's class.

This year's group of prep wrestlers in the state of Oklahoma is considered to be one of the best in recent memory, and the Cowboys succeeded in keeping the homegrown talent in-state, with Perry, Bailey, Blake Rosholt (Ponca City HS), Ladd Rupp (Perry HS) and Zach White (Woodward HS) all signing on to continue their wrestling careers at Oklahoma State.

"History has always told us that without good in-state wrestlers, it's almost impossible to win a national championship," Smith said. "If you look at our championship teams, it has been important that Oklahoma wrestlers are a key part of what happens. It's nice that we had an in-state group like this and it's something we should expect and work hard for, not something we should settle for every four or five years."

Perry, Bailey, Rosholt and Zach White all have family connections to Cowboy wrestling. Perry's father Mark was a two-time All-American at Oklahoma State in 1984 and 1985 and he is the nephew of John Smith. Bailey's father was a Cowboy All-American in 1983 and 1986. Rosholt's oldest brother Jake was a three-time NCAA Champion for OSU and his older brothers Jared and Adam both currently wrestle for the Cowboys. Zach White is the nephew of OSU coach John Smith.

"There are a lot of reasons to be excited about this class," Smith said. "There are legacy wrestlers whose dads wrestled here in Chris Perry and Dallas Bailey. I wrestled with their fathers and it is exciting to see their kids coming into the program now. It shows that people believe in the program."

All told, Oklahoma State's incoming group of recruits have won 15 state championships between them and that number should increase when they wrestle at the state championships at the end of this coming season.

"Overall, this is a very strong class and it comes at a time when we need to have a class like this," Smith said. "My staff has

- 5) worked hard in recruiting and they deserve a lot of credit. Developing a strong room is the start of being able to compete for championships. Each of the wrestlers we are bringing in as part of this class is being brought in on a need basis. We really feel like this class fills slots that will give us strength and more options as we move forward."

A closer look at the individuals who comprise Oklahoma State's 2008 wrestling signing class.

April 29, 2009

The Oklahoma State men's track and field team returns to action this weekend to compete in the Arkansas Twilight Meet on Friday in Fayetteville, Ark., and the Payton Jordan Cardinal Invitational on Saturday in Palo Alto, Calif. This weekend also marks the first weekend of collegiate outdoor competition for freshman standout German Fernandez.

Fernandez and several other top Cowboy athletes are headed to Stanford University's Cubb Track & Angell Field for the Payton Jordan Cardinal Invitational.

Sean Fleming will represent the Cowboys in the 1,500 meters, where his season-best time is only three seconds shy of the NCAA regional qualifying time, while David Churcher runs the 3,000-meter steeplechase, where he has already qualified for the regional with a time of 8:55.11.

The majority of Oklahoma State's athletes will run the 5,000 meters, including Fernandez, Sean Vail, John Kosgei, Ryan Prentice, Colby Lowe and Matt Barnes-Smith. Alex Ruiz will run the 10,000 meters for the first time this year.

Five Cowboys are headed to John McDonnell Field at the University of Arkansas for the Arkansas Twilight Meet.

Michael Roloff will run the 400-meter dash for the third time this season, while Tucker Wiggins, Brian Gosnell, Brad Moffitt and Ryan Lutz compete in the 1,500 meters. Gosnell will also compete in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, his first time to run the event this season.

The Arkansas Twilight Meet is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. and conclude with the 5,000 meters at 9:25 p.m. on Friday, while the Payton Jordan Cardinal Invitational is scheduled to last from 3 p.m. to 10:16 p.m. PST on Saturday.

Cowboy Track Ranked 24th In National Poll

The Oklahoma State men's track and field team is ranked No. 74 in the nation in this week's U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association poll.

SPRINGWATER, Okla. (AP)—The Oklahoma State men's track and field team ranked no. 24 in the nation in this week's U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association poll.

The Cowboys started the season outside of the rankings, but vaulted into the top 25 ahead of such teams as Stanford and Big 12 rivals Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and Iowa State after a strong showing at the Rivalry Invitational in Fayetteville last weekend. OSU is one of eight Big 12 teams included in this week's rankings.

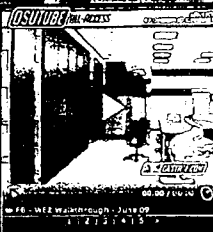

The Cowboys return to action when selected runners compete at the J.C. Martin Invitational in Norman, Okla. this Saturday.

Cowboys Advance To Match Play At NCAA Championship

May 28, 2009

TOLEDO, Ohio - Oklahoma State's men's golf team earned the top seed for the match play portion of the NCAA Championship after firing a 3-under 261 on Thursday at Inverness Club in Toledo, Ohio.

The Cowboys posted a 54-hole total of 849, 3-under par, to finish 13 shots clear of the field. Arizona State finished second at 862, while Southern California, Arkansas and Washington all tied for third at 865. Michigan, Texas A&M and Georgia rounded out the top eight and also advanced to match play.

OSU will square off with Georgia at 7 a.m. (EST) with the winner moving on to the semifinal round, which is set for 2 p.m. at the par-73, 7,255-yard layout.

A portion of the 30-team field was unable to complete its round after part of Wednesday's second round was pushed back to Thursday morning. The remaining six teams that did not complete their third round on Thursday will wrap up play on Friday morning.

A pair of players competing as individuals finished 1-2 in the race for medalist honors as North Carolina State's Matt Hultman turned in a 6-under 207 total that included three-straight 69s to claim the top spot. Clemson's Kyle Stanley finished two strokes back at 209.

OSU's Rickie Fowler charged up the leaderboard during his final round, moving up 13 spots into a tie for third place with USC's Tom Gullmer and TCU's Tom Hoge at 218. The Murneta, Calif., native fired a 68 during his third round to record his second consecutive top-five finish in the event. Fowler finished fourth at the 2009 national championship in West Lafayette, Ind.

Fowler went out with an even-par 35 that included a pair of birdies before making his move on the back nine. After pars at Nos. 10, 11 and 12, he posted a birdie at the par-5 13th to move under par. Fowler gave the shot back at the 15th with a bogey, but closed with three straight birdies to finish at 3-under for the day.

Freshman Morgan Hoffmann also finished in the top 10, tying for seventh place at 1-under 212 after closing with a 71. The Wyckoff, N.J., native's performance marks the sixth time he has finished in the top 10 this season.

No. 2 Arizona State vs. No. 7 Texas A&M

No. 3 Southern Cal vs. No. 6 Michigan

No. 4 Arkansas vs. No. 5 Washington

Fellow freshman Peter Uhlman crept inside the top 20, tying for 18th place at 215 after recording a 70. The Bradenton, Fla., native's 1-under score featured five birdies, including four on his front nine.

Sophomore Kevin Toney finished with a 72 to come in tied for 27th at 217, while senior Trent Ligon recorded a 78 to finish tied for 37th place at 219.

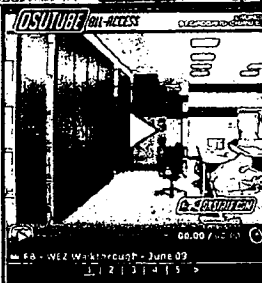

This year is the first for the match-play format with previous winners being determined by 72 holes of stroke play. The first team to win three of five matches will advance to the semifinals. Saturday's championship match is slated for a 10:00 a.m. start.

Cowboy Golf Set For Regional Action In Stillwater

Oklahoma State's men's golf team will be in search of an unprecedented 63rd-straight NCAA Championship appearance this week when it begins THCAA Regional play on Thursday at Karsten Creek Golf Club in Stillwater. The No. 2-ranked Cowboys, who have won their last two tournaments, will be the top seed on their home course and will begin play at 8:30 a.m. (CST). OSU will be paired with Arkansas and TCU at the par-7, 2,407-yd. layout. Pairings for the second and third rounds will be done according to team standings. Live scoring will be available at nflist.com.

New Forest

This year will see the implementation of a new format. Gone is the three-regional, 27-team setup that saw the top 10 teams and two individuals on non-qualifying teams advance to the championship finals. The new qualifying format features six teams and three individuals from 12 teams and 10 individuals, while the other six regions have 14 teams and five individuals. Five teams and one individual not on those teams will advance from each regional to the NCAA Championship at Internet.Fish.Mn.26.30.10 in Ialdrda, Ohia.

Connecting At Eurasia

This week's regional will be the fifth men's collegiate event held at Karsten Creek. The Tom Fazio design's first tournament was the 1996 Karsten Creek Collegiate and was followed by the NCAA Central Regional in 2001. The Ping/Golfweek Preview was held in the fall of 2002 with the NCAA Championship being contested in the spring of 2003. OSU's best finish on its home course was its runner-up showing in 2003.

Regional Rowing ... 2009 NCAA Central Regional

OSU captured a 297 during his viral round at the NCAA Central Region to climb into second place in Ohio State's Scatler Course. OSU finished with a 37-over total of 889 to claim 10 shots behind tournament champion Walker Forest. The Cowboys entered the final 18 holes tied for sixth place, but fired the low round of the day, coming in as the only team among the 27 in the field to break 300. In addition to moving into the NCAA Championship, the Cowboys produced the regional medalist in Cavan Trear. This Edmond, Oklahoma, native entered the final day at 3-under after firing rounds of 70 and 69 before closing with a 75. Trear's 1-over 214 total put him just one shot clear of the field. Trent Johnson led his fellow freshmen at 217, finishing at 217, while Rickie Forcier carded his low round of 69 to finish in 218th place. In 219th place, a tie with Johnson, was Ben Johnson who finished at 236 and Trent Johnson finished at 232 and led for 1250.

What 2 Watch 4

The Cowboys will be looking to advance to the NCAA Championship for the 63rd consecutive time... OSU has put together an unprecedented string of 62 consecutive appearances that becomes that much more impressive when considering the record-long streak in Georgia's 11-straight berths... OSU has won three of its last four events with victories at the Morris Williams Intercollegiate, the SEC Outdoor Championships and the Big 12 Championship... OSU also produced the individual midweek in four of its last five tournaments as well with three different Cowboys finishing first during that stretch.

Cowboys Sweep All-Conference Golf Awards

May 4, 2009

IRVING, Texas - Oklahoma State's men's golf team had five players named to the All-Big 12 Squad and swept the league's individual awards it was announced today by the conference office.

Freshman Morgan Hoffmann became the fourth consecutive Cowboy to earn player of the year honors. The 34-year-old, NJ, native picked up his third victory last week at the Big 12 Championship and is currently ranked No. 1 nationally. Hoffmann was also named the league's top newcomer, marking the second consecutive year and the fourth time in the last five years an OSU player has received the honor.

Cowboy head coach Mike McGraw earned his third-straight coach of the year honor after directing OSU to its third consecutive conference title. The Cowboys have won four team titles overall this season and are currently ranked second in the country.

In the Big 12's 13 year history, OSU has produced nine players of the year, five newcomers of the year as well as six coach of the year honorees.

Joining Hoffmann on the all-conference squad were senior Trent Leon, junior Trent Whitekiller and sophomores Rickie Fowler and Javie Tway.

Leon has made nine starts on the year, finishing in the top 10 on five occasions. Whitekiller has recorded a pair of top 10s, including his first career win at the Linger Linger Invitational.

Last year's Big 12 Player and Newcomer of the Year, Fowler has finished in the top five on five occasions this year with one victory.

Tway has competed in nine events with his best finish being a third-place showing at the Morris Williams Intercollegiate.

Fowler, Leon and Tway were all named to the squad for the second consecutive year, while Whitekiller was chosen for the first time.

The 2009 All-Big 12 Team was identified using the top 10 highest-ranked student-athletes according to the Golfweek/Seguin Performance Index following the Big 12 Championship. The player and newcomer of the year are automatically selected as the highest ranked individual from the Golfweek/Seguin rankings following the conference championship.

Morgan Hoffmann was named the 2009 Big 12 Player and Newcomer of the Year on Monday.

Cowboy Golf Claims Title At Aggie Invitational

Oklahoma State's men's golf team swept both the team and individual titles on Sunday at the Aggie Invitational at Traditions Golf Club. The victory was the second in the Cowboys' last three outings and their third of the season, while sophomore Rickie Fowler claimed his first individual title of the season.

OSU entered the day with a five-shot lead over tournament host Texas A&M at the par-72, 7,144-yard layout after firing a 341 on Saturday. The Cowboys saw their lead disappear quickly on Sunday morning after all six players in the lineup made the turn over par.

However, OSU was able to regain momentum on the back nine to outdistance the Aggies by three strokes. The Cowboys posted a 13 over 273 total to finish at 6-under 714, while A&M took runner-up honors at 717.

Ohio State finishing a distant third with a 21-over total of 741.

The event was reduced to a 36 holes after heavy thunderstorms moved through the area on Saturday morning and forced the cancellation of one round.

After opening with a 7-under 65, sophomore Rickie Fowler closed with a 73 to take medalist honors over freshman teammate Morgan Hoffmann. Fowler went out with a 3-over 39 total and stood at 4-over through 11 holes before closing with three birdies over his final four holes to get in at 1-over for the day. The Murietta, Calif., native's 138 total was one shot better than Hoffmann and gave Fowler his first victory of the season and the third of his career.

Hoffmann got out of the gate slowly with a 1-over 37 on his front side. Like Fowler, the Saddle Brook, N.J., native steadied himself on the back nine as well. Hoffmann made four birdies on the inward nine, including three in the final five holes to finish with a 2-under 70 and a 139 total. The finish was Hoffmann's second runner-up finish as a Cowboy.

Senior Trent Lean finished with his second consecutive 76 to tie for 43rd place at 152.

The Oklahoma State football team will hit the practice field for the first time in 2009 when spring drills get underway Monday on the OSU campus.

The Cowboys will practice at 3:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday this week. All three workouts will be conducted on the practice fields east of the Athletics Center and are open to the public.

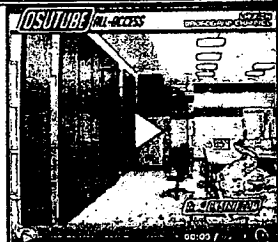

After this week, OSU's next open practice will be held April 3.

The Cowboys welcome back 16 starters and 34 lettermen from the 2008 squad that went 9-4 and made an appearance in the Pacific Life Holiday Bowl.

OGU has appeared in three straight bowl games and now has a postseason appearance in six of the last seven seasons.

Cowboys Practice, Take A Trip To The San Diego Zoo

SAN DIEGO A - Oklahoma State continued preparation for its 2008 Pacific Life Holiday Bowl showdown against Oregon Friday morning before spending the afternoon touring the world renowned San Diego Zoo.

The Cowboys went through a two-hour practice on the turf field at the University of San Diego in the morning, this time with sunny skies and no rain.

In a game showcasing two of college football's top offenses, OSU linebacker Mike Sutton said fundamentals would be the key for the Cowboy defense Tuesday against the Ducks.

Story Photo

"It's gonna come down to us tackling," Sutton said. "I've seen (Oregon) break a lot of tackles, and they do a very good job of that. And their wide receivers block very well outside on the perimeter. We've got to get off blocks and make tackles. It comes down to pretty much the basics in every game."

The 9-3 Cowboys can be the school record for wins in a season with a Holiday Bowl victory, and Sutton said while he and his teammates certainly want to enjoy their stay in San Diego, getting win No. 10 is their primary focus.

"Being cemented in OSU history as being one of the winningest programs in a season is really important to all of us," Sutton said. "Coach (Mike) Gundy preaches all year that on the road games it's all about business, and we save the pleasure for the bowl game. But we talked about the first day we got here that the only way you have fun is if you win, so everybody is staying focused."

"You have your fun, but as it gets closer to game time everybody starts focusing in on getting prepared to get that win."

Following their morning workout, the Cowboys got to experience an afternoon of fun at the San Diego Zoo.

Sutton, along with teammates Matt Fodge, Brady Bond, Chris Lemon and Patrick Layme, got the unique opportunity to "meet" one of the zoo's sea lions, Cabo. The players each took turns petting Cabo and posing for pictures, and each player got a kiss on the cheek from the animal.

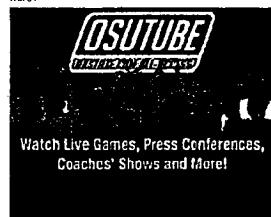

"It was a little scary at first, but once I calmed down a little it was fun," Sutton said. "Cabo was really cool. I might take Cabo out on a date later."

Added Bond, "It was a little bit odd between (Cabo's) whiskers and his breath. You could smell his breath, and it wasn't a pleasant smell."

The Cowboy players and staff were able to spend several hours at the zoo touring the exhibits and taking pictures of their favorite animals.

"I like the most ferocious animals â the lions, the cheetahs, all the killers," Sutton said. "I want to stay as far away as possible and enjoy them."

"It's one of the greatest zoos in the world so I'm just trying to do as much as I can while I'm here and learn," Bond said. "This is my first time at this (San Diego) zoo, and there's a lot of interesting animals to see out here."

hunter established himself as one of college football's top ball carriers this season with nine 100-yard rushing games, which enabled the sophomore from Tyler, Texas, to rack up 1,518 rushing yards and 14 touchdowns. The first-team All-Big 12 Conference performer averages 6.7 yards per carry and ranks sixth nationally with 126.5 rushing yards per contest.

Bryant has enjoyed one of the most productive seasons by a wide receiver in OSU football history. A first-team All-Big 12 pick and finalist for the Heisman Award, Bryant set a school record with 18 touchdown catches this season to go along with 74 receptions for 1,313 yards.

A three-year starter on the offensive line, Okung has paved the way for one of the top offensive attacks in OSU history and also earned first-team all-conference honors this season. The Cowboys are averaging 41.6 points and 489.2 yards per game and sport a balanced attack that averages 256 yards rushing and 233.2 yards passing per game.

Cox continues to perform as one of the most dangerous return men at the collegiate level. Cox is averaging over 30 yards per kickoff return in 2008 and has a pair of kickoff returns for touchdowns. He leads active FBS players and holds the Big 12 and OSU records with four career kickoff returns for touchdowns.

"Getting to the NFL has always been a dream of mine and I'm excited that the day is now here," Pettigrew said. "I want to thank all my Oklahoma State coaches and teammates and everyone who has helped me get to where I am. It's kind of a relief to know where I am going now after so much talk leading up to the draft and I'm excited for what's to come."

Pettigrew enrolled at Oklahoma State in 2004, spending the season as a redshirt after turning down offers from Texas A&M, Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and Arkansas.

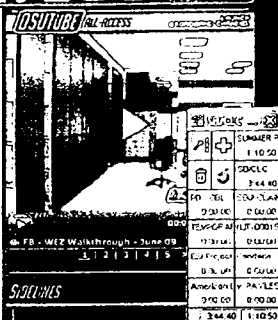

The following season, Petegrew was firmly entrenched as the team's starting tight end, leading the squad with eight touchdown-receiving blocks. He finished third on the team with 74 receptions, gaining 310 yards (12.9 avg) with four touchdowns. He also excelled on special teams, recording six tackles (1 solo) and recovered a fumble.

With professional scouts regularly visiting Oklahoma State leading up to the draft, OSU tight end coach Doug Mearns noted, "Brandon is a classic tight end. In the era of increasingly athletic players and spread offenses, his college tight end has become more of an overtight end. But not in Stillwater, where he's the tight end and the ball carrier. He's got 50 yards a game. In today's game, you see a lot of tight ends that suit up a majority of the time. Brandon can go down inside and grind with the best of them, then he can get out and mismatch linebackers or safeties. He's an every-down guy."

"Once last season, Pettigrew came to the sidelines begging his coaches to call a play to his side of the field. A running play. That's what makes him special. Plenty of tight ends will beg for the ball, trying to get their receiving numbers up. But Pettigrew wants to win, whether he's scoring touchdowns or opening holes for others to score them."

No. 2 Cowboys Take Aim at National Championship

The Basics

The No. 2 Oklahoma State men's cross country team is set to compete at the 2008 NCAA National Championships Monday at the LaVern Gibson Championship Cross Country Course in Terre Haute, Ind.

The Cowboys, who have already won the Midwest regional championship, as well as the Big 12 Championship, are now prepared to try for the national championship against the favored defending champions, the No. 1 Oregon Ducks.

"We have a group of guys that is also talented and that knows we have a shot at this thing," coach Dave Smith said. "They will toe the line on Monday ready for a battle and expecting to win."

The men's race starts at 11:40 a.m. central time and will be televised live by CBS College Sports.

Cowboys at the National Championships

At last year's NCAA National Championships, Oklahoma State ran an outstanding race and earned a spot on the podium at third place.

The Cowboys' only national championship came in 1954, when coach Ralph Higgins' Cowboys claimed the team title.

Oklahoma State has never had an NCAA individual cross country champion.

OSU Lineups

Oklahoma State will send its top runners to compete at the NCAA National Championships.

Last Time Out

The Cowboys ran well at their last outing, winning the team title at the NCAA Midwest Regional Championships.

Junior John Kosgei led the way for Oklahoma State, finishing the 10,000-meter course in third place with a time of 31:19.75. Three other Cowboys joined him in the top seven to help claim the team title.

The Cowgirls also competed in the event, finishing the last meet of their season in 5th place with sophomore Mahaela Suta leading the way, finishing the 6,000-meter course in 10th place with a time of 21:13.95.

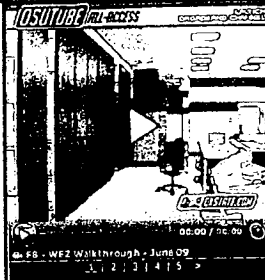

OSU in the Polls

In the latest national cross country poll, the Oklahoma State men's team stayed at the No. 1 spot in the Midwest region.

The Cowboys also retained their spot as one of the best teams in the country, earning a No. 2 ranking in the national poll while receiving three first-place votes. Oklahoma State trails only the defending national champions, the Oregon Ducks.

The excitement level is as high as it has ever been for Oklahoma State men's cross country heading into the 2008 season.

A year ago, the Cowboys placed third at the NCAA Championships behind All-America performances from Ryan Vail and David Chirchir. Both Vail and Chirchir are back in 2008 and are joined by a host of experienced teammates and the best class of recruits in school history.

"There is definitely a buzz surrounding the program that seems to be growing as we get closer to the season," Reigning NCAA Midwest Region Coach of the Year Dave Smith said. "Our performance at the national championships last year, the depth and quality of guys we return, and this incredible group of newcomers, has many anticipating a very special season for OSU."

After a breakthrough year in 2007-08, Vail is well on his way to joining the list of all-time great Oklahoma State distance runners. Among the litany of honors and awards Vail secured as a junior were earning All-America honors during the cross country season (eighth, 29:58), winning the 3,000-meter Big 12 indoor championship (8:06.58) and earning All-America honors in the outdoor 5,000 meters (13:42.85). In addition, he was a finalist in the 5,000 meters at the U.S. Olympic Trials. Off the track, Vail was a first-team ESPN the Magazine Academic All-American and was also named to the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association All-Academic team for both cross country and track and field.

"Ryan has definitely put his stamp on this program and I think the team has taken on the character of its leader. He is tough, tenacious and competitive," Smith said. "He pays attention to detail. He won't let anybody outwork him. He is blue-collar in his approach to training and isn't afraid to suffer when it comes time to race. He sets his goals extremely high and then pours everything into achieving them. He makes our entire team better by making believers out of each of his teammates. He has shown them again and again how to accomplish what most say you cannot. This is Ryan's team and I can't think of a better guy to lead us as we strive to climb a couple of more steps on that podium."

Though Vail has emerged as OSU's most recognizable track and field performer, Chirchir is emerging as a star in his own right. The 2007 Big 12 Cross Country Newcomer of the Year and an all-midwest region performer, Chirchir earned All-America honors during the cross country season by placing 15th at the NCAA Championships with a time of 30:20 despite hanging back in the pack for the first 5,000 meters as part of Oklahoma State's team strategy. His willingness to sacrifice individual glory for team success played a large part in the Cowboys placing third at the NCAA Championships. Chirchir's success translated into the track and field portion of the schedule, where he earned all-Big 12 honors after placing eighth in the indoor 5,000 meters (14:27.42). He was also an all-Big 12 performer during the outdoor season by placing sixth in the 3,000 meter steeplechase with a time of 9:27.19.

With Vail and Chirchir commanding most of the attention and accolades, Matt Barnes-Smith, Sean Fleming and Daniel Watts are the athletes who may just end up having the biggest impact on how well OSU does as a team this year. All three were all-midwest region honorees during the 2007 cross country season and provide Smith with the luxury of having quality performers throughout the lineup. Barnes-Smith and Fleming were both all-Big 12 honorees during the 2007 cross country season and Watts was a 2006 all-conference honoree to go with 2006 Big 12 Cross Country Newcomer of the Year accolades. Both Watts (42nd) and Barnes-Smith (48th) placed among the top 50 at the 2007 NCAA Cross Country Championships, with Fleming taking 19th at the regional championship.

"Those guys are all veteran guys now and they understand how we train and how we run a race as a team," Smith said. "They have all trained hard with the philosophy that they train like the number one guy, but they compete within the team strategy, which may mean running as the fourth or fifth guy. I have a lot of confidence in those three and they are a key to our season."

As good as Oklahoma State's returners are, perhaps an equal buzz surrounds the bumper crop of newcomers that Smith has attracted to Stillwater. Leading the way is freshman German Fernandez (Riverbank, Calif./Riverbank HS).

Yes, THAT German Fernandez.

Fernandez was honored as the 2008 Gatorade National Boys Track and Field Athlete of the Year and was the consensus pick as the No. 1 recruit in the nation. Fernandez's list of accomplishments rivals that of any track and field performer, but it was his showing at the 2008 California state meet that elevated him to a new level. Fernandez's performance in the 1,600 meters (4:00.29) broke the California Interscholastic Federation state meet record (4:02.62), set in 2001 by 2008 U.S. Olympic Team Trials Men's Marathon champion Ryan Hall. Fernandez's time was only 0.78 seconds away from the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations record (3:59.51), set in 2001 by the current American record holder in the mile and 2000-01 Gatorade National Boys Track & Field Athlete of the Year, Alan Webb.

After a mere two hours of rest following the 1,600-meter race, Fernandez clocked an 8:34.23 finish in the 3,200 meters, shattering the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations record (8:41.10), set in 2000 by Dathan Ritzenhein, the runner-up in the 2008 U.S. Olympic Team Trials Men's Marathon. This performance also broke a hand-timed CIF state meet record (8:44.9) set by the late Eric Hulst in 1975.

Without going into too much detail on Fernandez, his other prep highlights included shattering the existing national record in the two-mile with an 8:34.40 at the Nike Outdoor Nationals and securing the 2007-08 Gatorade Boys Cross Country California Runner of the Year honor.

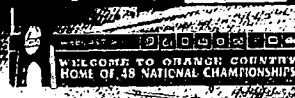

"German is a phenomenal talent and as cliché as it might sound, truly the sky is the limit for him," Smith said. "He has some big dreams for the long-term future of his career and some pretty lofty goals in the short term for both himself and the team. He is still a very young athlete and we are going to take a very conservative, deliberate approach to his training to give him all the time he needs to develop at his own rate. That being said, if all goes well, I have no doubt that he could have a major impact on our team finish as early as the NCAA championships in Terre Haute this November."

Fellow freshman Colby Lowe (Southlake, Texas/Carroll) has an impressive résumé as well. Lowe is on most everyone's list of top five middle distance/distance runners entering the college ranks this year after he placed third in the two-mile at the 2008 Nike Outdoor Nationals, just .01 behind the second-place finisher. Lowe took second in the two-mile at the 2008 Nike Indoor Nationals and was the fourth-place finisher at the 2007 Foot Locker Cross Country Championships.

Ryan Prentice (Seattle, Wash./Mount Rainier) and Ryan Farrar (Broken Arrow, Okla./Broken Arrow) round out OSU's incoming group of freshmen, with both carrying the title of state champion with them and Prentice having won the 5,000 meter title at the 2007 USA Track and Field Junior Olympic National Championships.

A pair of transfers are also set to compete for the Cowboys in 2008-09, with John Kosgei (Eldoret, Kenya/South Plains College/LSU) and Josh Thebeau (Potosi, Mo./Belmont University) both joining the fold. During his time at South Plains College, Kosgei won a national title in the 5,000 meters at the 2007 NJCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships and was the runner-up in the 1,500 meters and 10,000 meters at the national meet. At LSU, he was the high scorer at the 2008 SEC Indoor Championships, winning SEC titles in the mile and the 3,000 meters. He became only the second Tiger ever to break the four-minute mark in the mile when he clocked a 3:59.85 in 2008. Thebeau was a high school teammate of current Cowboy Josh Mathis at Potosi HS before going on to Belmont University, where he suited up for four indoor races and one outdoor event in 2008.

"This is by far the best team I have ever been associated with. They are talented, they are hungry, and they have worked incredibly hard to climb into the ranks of the elite cross country programs," Smith said. "I am really excited for them and can't wait to see what they do when it comes time to race. Winning the Big 12 and NCAA championships is always the goal and this is a team that is now in position to compete for either title. We have a tough, tough conference and I think that the top five or six teams in the NCAA are as strong as a group as they have ever been so both races will be fiercely contested. This team is not afraid to put it out there, though. We will be ready and eager to mix it up with the best."

Cowboys' Season Ends With Loss To Clemson OSU drops NCAA Regional championship game to Tigers, ends season with 34-24 mark

June 1, 2009

CLEMSON, S.C. -- Top-seeded Clemson scored five runs, three of them uncamed, in its final two at bats to defeat Oklahoma State, 6-5, and win the NCAA Clemson Regional championship Monday at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

The loss marks the second-straight season OSU has lost in the NCAA Regional championship round. The Cowboys, who were the third seed at the Clemson Regional, end the season with a 34-24 record.

Kyle Parker's two-RBI single off OSU closer Randy McCurry in the bottom of the eighth provided the game-winning runs as Clemson improved to 44-20 and advanced to the Super Regionals in Tempe, Ariz.

Parker's go-ahead RBIs in the bottom of the eighth gave CU a one-run lead heading into the ninth inning before OSU put the tying run on second and the potential winning run on first with two outs. But Mark Ginther struck out to end the game and the Cowboys' season.

Tyler Lyons worked 7.2 innings and struck out seven against Clemson.

Tyler Lyons, who was named to the all-tournament team, was the tough-luck loser on the mound for the Cowboys to end the season with a 7-6 mark. After starting and picking up a win in the tourney opener against Alabama on Friday, Lyons was called on to start the title game on short rest. In 7.2 innings, the junior southpaw allowed six runs, just three of them earned, on eight hits and struck out seven.

OSU took the game's early lead and knocked Clemson starter Ryan Hinson out of the game in the second inning.

Kevin David collected his first hit of the Regional with a single up the middle to lead off the top of the second frame, and Tom Belza continued his red-hot hitting with an RBI double into the gap in left-center field to plate the Cowboys' first run.

The Cowboys added to their lead on an RBI single by Davis Duren, one that gave OSU a 2-0 advantage and knocked Hinson out of the game after just one inning of work. The Pokes then advanced runners to second and third with one out after a walk and a sacrifice bunt, but CU reliever Tomas Cruz retired OSU's next two hitters to get out of the jam.

OSU quickly took a 3-0 in the top of the fourth as Ginther blasted the first pitch of the inning over the wall in left field, a shot which carried down the line and barely remained fair. The homer was Ginther's fifth of the season and second of the tourney.

The Tigers finally got to Lyons in the fifth. After 4.2 scoreless innings, Lyons gave up a two-out double to Clemson Regional MVP Chris Epps. Mike Freeman followed with a triple to cut OSU's lead to 3-1 before Lyons struck out Jeff Schaus to end the inning.

OSU 0693

OSU took advantage of a pair of Clemson throwing errors in the seventh to add to its lead with two unearned runs. Micheal Dabbs led off the inning with a single, and Tyrone Hambly followed with a sacrifice bunt. CU third baseman Matt Sanders fielded the bunt but threw the ball away, allowing Hambly to advance to second and Dabbs to reach third.

Up next, Neil Medchill sent a fly ball to short left field that Schaus dropped, resulting in a bases-loaded, no-outs situation for the Cowboys. David then delivered a sacrifice fly to center field to make the score 4-0.

CU's second error in the inning also proved costly as first baseman Ben Paulsen threw the ball away trying to record a force out at second base. The errant throw allowed Hambly to score OSU's fifth run of the night.

The Tigers answered with three unearned runs of their own in the bottom of the inning. With two outs, Stolz reached on a throwing error by Hambly, and Epps made OSU pay with an opposite-field, two-run home run to left to cut the Cowboys' lead to 5-3.

CU added its third run of the inning on an RBI single by Schaus, who was thrown out at second after the run scored to end the inning with the Cowboys leading, 5-4.

In the decisive eighth inning, Lyons walked Paulsen to lead off the frame, but quickly recorded two outs on a strikeout and line out. But John Nestor doubled, ending Lyons' night on the mound, and McCurry came in and promptly surrendered the two-RBI single to Parker.

Hambly led off the ninth for the Cowboys and sent a ground ball into the hole at short. But CU shortstop Brad Miller got to the ball and fired to first. Hambly slid head first into the bag but was called out on the close play.

Up next, Medchill singled and advanced to second on a groundout by David. After Belza was intentionally walked, Matt Vaughn retired Ginther to end the game.

Vaughn earned the win with 3.2 innings in relief to improve to 4-1.

OSU Game Notes

- Four Cowboys were named to the NCAA Clemson Regional All-Tournament Team. Tom Belza (SS), Tyrone Hambly (3B), Micheal Dabbs (OF) and Tyler Lyons (P) earned the honor. Belza and Lyons earned all-tournament honors for the second time in their careers as both were on the NCAA Stillwater Regional All-Tournament Team in 2008.
- Belza hit .500 (7-for-14) in the Clemson Regional with four home runs and nine RBIs. He also scored five runs.
- Belza also ended the season with a 12-game hitting streak.
- OSU is now 11-10 in NCAA Tournament play under head coach Frank Anderson.

Cowboys Suffer 15-1 Loss To Clemson

OSU and Clemson will battle for Super Regional berth Monday at 6 p.m.

May 23, 2009

Box Score in PDF Format

CLERMONT, S.C. - Oklahoma State ruled in its first attempt at an NCAA Regional championship as the third-seeded Cowboys dropped a 15-1 decision to top-seeded Clemson Sunday night at Doak Campbell Stadium.

The loss sets up a Regional championship game between OSU (14-22) and Clemson (43-20) Monday at 6 p.m. (CST). The winner of that game will advance to a Super Regional.

Clemson scored in each of the first three innings, snapping for 11 runs during that stretch to put the game away early.

The Tigers took an early lead with four runs in the top of the first inning as CU battled around against OSU starter Eddie Blundell.

Chris Epps led off the game with a single, and after stealing second, he scored the game's first run on an RBI single by Mike Freeman. After a walk and a fly out, Watson Boyd brought home a pair of runs with a double to make the score 3-0, and the Tiger fourth hit at the corner, a single by Brad Miller, gave the top seed a four-run advantage.

The Tigers increased their lead in the second, getting a solo home run from Freeman for their fifth run. Following a walk to Jeff Schauer, Blundell's day was done after just 1.2 innings.

Blundell, a junior right hander, recorded just five outs and allowed five runs on five hits to fall to 7-4 on the season. He walked three and struck out two.

CU continued to add to its lead in the third, racking up six runs on five hits against three different OSU pitchers. Five Tigers collected RBIs in the inning, the big blow coming on a two-run home run by Ben Fichten.

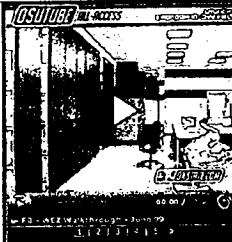

With plenty of offensive support, Clemson starter Chris Dwyer cranked on the mound. The freshman southpaw shut down the Cowboys over the first three innings before Tyson Hankley finally got OSU on the scoreboard with a solo home run in the fourth. The hit was Hankley's 10th home of the season.

Hankley's homer was about all the Cowboys could muster against Dwyer, who left with two outs and the bases loaded on the sixth, just one out shy of his second complete game. He improved to 5-3 by allowing only one run on six hits and also racked up a career-high 13 strikeouts.

Hankley and Tony Bels had two hits apiece for the Cowboys.

OSU Game Notes

- With a 2-for-4 effort at the plate, Tyson Hankley has now hit safely in 11 consecutive games. He is hitting .600 (6-for-10) with four homers and seven RBIs in the Region.
- Sunday's loss snapped the Cowboys' four-game winning streak.
- OSU is now 11-9 in NCAA Tournament play under head coach Frank Anderson.

Cowboys Beat Clemson To Advance To Regional Championship

OSU one win away from advancing to Super Regional

Box Score in PDF Format

May 30, 2009

CLEMSON, S.C. — Oklahoma State defeated top-seeded Clemson, 3-2, Saturday night at Doug Kingsmore Stadium to move into the NCAA Clemson Regional championship round.

Neil Medchill's RBI single in the bottom of the eighth plated Micheal Dabbs with what proved to be the game-winning run, and OSU closer Randy McCurry retired the Tigers in order in the top of the ninth as the Cowboys remained undefeated in the double-elimination tourney.

Third-seeded OSU, which improved to 34-22 on the season, will face the winner of Sunday's Clemson (41-20)-Tennessee Tech (31-23-1) elimination game Sunday at 6 p.m. (CST). The Cowboys need one win to advance to next week's Super Regionals.

The first 6 ½ innings of Saturday's contest was a pitching duel between OSU's Andrew Oliver and Clemson's Casey Harman as both southpaws kept their opponents off the scoreboard.

But with one out in the bottom of the seventh, Tom Belza delivered a solo home run just inside the right field foul pole for the game's first run. It was the sophomore's fourth homer of the Regional and sixth of the season.

Up next, OSU doubled its lead as Mark Ginther crushed a 3-1 offering from Harman over the wall in left-center field to put the Cowboys on top, 2-0. The blast was the freshman's fourth of the season.

The lead would not last long. In the top of the eighth, back-to-back singles by Clemson's Brad Miller and pinch-hitter John Nester put Tigers on first and third with one out. Chris Epps then delivered an RBI single into right field to cut OSU's lead to 2-1.

Following Epps, Mike Freeman collected Clemson's fourth consecutive single, which plated the tying run and drove Oliver from the game. Epps advanced to third on the play, while Freeman took second on a throw from the outfield.

With runners on second and third and one out, OSU called on McCurry out of the bullpen to squash the rally.

Oklahoma State advanced to the NCAA Clemson Regional championship with Saturday's win.

OSU 0696

And the freshman right-hander did just that. After striking out Jeff Schaus for the second out of the inning, McCurry intentionally walked Ben Paulsen to load the bases. He then induced a pop out from Kyle Parker to end the inning and keep the score tied at 2-2.

OSU answered in the bottom of the eighth. After a one-out double by Dabbs, CU recorded the second out of the frame when Tyrone Hamblly grounded out. But Medchill singled off the glove of Paulsen at first base, and the ball carried into right field to allow Dabbs to score the go-ahead run.

McCurry earned the win on the mound with 1.2 innings of scoreless relief. He did not allow a hit and recorded three strikeouts, including two in the top of the ninth, to improve to 4-1 on the season.

Oliver lasted 7.1 innings, allowing two runs on eight hits. The junior southpaw struck out six and allowed just one walk.

Throughout the middle innings, Oliver escaped damage repeatedly by making big pitches and getting strong defense behind him.

In the fourth, Clemson squandered a leadoff double as the Cowboys turned an inning-ending double play on a line drive off the bat of Paulsen.

OSU repeated the feat in the fifth, as this time a leadoff single by Parker went for naught as the next batter, Wilson Boyd, lined into a double play.

In the seventh, Clemson stranded another runner as following a double by Paulsen, Oliver struck out Parker and got Boyd to line out to third base.

Harman was equally tough as following Medchill's two-out single in the first inning, he retired 17 of the next 19 OSU batters, with the only two Cowboys reaching base doing so via walks.

OSU Game Notes

- Medchill, Belza and Dabbs each extended hitting streaks Saturday. Medchill has now hit safely in 11-straight games, while Belza's hitting streak is now at 10. Dabbs has a hit in eight consecutive games.
- OSU is now 11-8 in NCAA Tournament play under head coach Frank Anderson.
- Prior to Belza and Ginther's home run blasts, the last time the Cowboys had hit back-to-back homers was April 1 against Tabor College when Tyrone Hamblly and Marcus Knecht pulled off the feat.

Clemson vs. Oklahoma State Post-Game Quotes

Clemson head coach Jack Leggett

On the game

"It was a tough loss for us. I thought Casey pitched a heck of a game for us. Oliver did a nice job pitching, we just couldn't seem to catch up to his fastball there and we had some men on base. Our golden opportunity was when we tied it up 2-2 and we had men on second and third and couldn't finish it off. It was a rough ballgame, but now our goal is focused on the game tomorrow at three o'clock."

On hard hitting right at fielders

"It's frustrating, there is no question about it. I thought we put some good swings on the ball, when Boyd hit that ball to the third baseman. We kept hitting the balls hard, but you have to find some holes. If we could find a few holes then we can position ourselves at the end. We just need to find a way to get men on base. From top to bottom we just need to be a little bit more productive, and make a little bit better adjustments sometimes. We have to just come back tomorrow and put this one behind us. Our new goal is to win this first ballgame and then get that second one."

On the fly ball to left resulting in Dabbs' eighth inning double

"I thought when it was hit that it had a chance to drop, but it hung up there for us and then I don't think it miscommunicated. He may not have seen Jeff come out of the corner of his eye, or what happened. It's obviously unfortunate, if we could have made that play we would have been in better shape. Now we have to go back and concentrate on tomorrow."

On pitchers

"Well we have some pitching left, so we will be okay. We will be ready to play tomorrow. We will throw Chris Dwyer on the mound tomorrow and just take one inning at a time, one game at a time. Get ourselves back where we need to be and give ourselves an opportunity to win. I think we have enough arms, we just have to hit the ball, play good defense and pick up some runs with men on base."

On getting a faster start

"We just need to get some leadoff men on base, and then like I said just have to break the ice a little bit early. As the game goes on, they were the home team and Casey was pitching so well we needed to get him some runs to give him more margin for error. We just have to keep on battling, keep working our line up, find a way to get leadoff men on base, push them around and just do all of those things that teams that win tournaments have to do."

On home-field advantage

"I hope they will come out tomorrow and get behind our kids. Our kids have been battling hard, and we have our back against the wall so what better time to support your team than tomorrow."

Clemson pitcher Casey Harman

On pitches hit for home runs

"First one was a slider, and the second one was a fastball. He put a pretty good swing on the slider, if I could take that pitch back I would and throw a better one to him."

On Belza

"Obviously I heard about him hitting the three home runs, but my mentality I go out and try to get everyone out. I don't look at somebody like I have to pitch him differently than anybody else, you have to go after everybody. That's how I was trying to be tonight, but he got the best of me and I tip my hat to him. We are just going to try and move forward and win these next couple of games."

First baseman Ben Paulsen

On tomorrow

"Just have to play the next game our hardest. This one will actually have a chance to be our last one. We just need to play our best baseball, and I have a good feeling about tomorrow."

On grounder off his glove in eighth resulting in game-winning hit

"That is one of those plays that you practice. You feel like you can make it every time, but it just hit off the heel of my glove and into the outfield. I guess it was hit just hard enough and off my glove for a runner to score off second."

Oklahoma State head coach Frank Anderson

On game

"Obviously it was a really well played game. Casey pitched very well for Clemson, and then we had one scratch hit I think through six innings, then we hit a couple balls pretty hard and they hit some balls pretty hard as well. We got double plays out of them, and it was that type of baseball. I thought it was very competitive from both sides and there was a great crowd, and a good win for us."

On Oklahoma State pitcher Randy McCurry

"He's done a good job for us obviously. He's a freshman, and he's had some situations that have been tough for him, so he's been through tough situations. He's very competitive, and he's going to go out there and battle. And that's the biggest thing when you get in these situations; you have to have kids that will compete and he'll go out there and do that."

On criticism about making the tournament

"We really haven't thought about it that much. I was more worried about getting our team prepared the week that we didn't play in the conference tournament and never discussed it one time with the kids really, because what are you going to say? We just went about practice in the same way and watched the show, so I don't think there was that much of a chip on our shoulder. We just wanted to play and have fun and play clean baseball. And that's been our biggest goal."

Oklahoma State shortstop Tom Belza

On hitting so many home runs

"[laughs] I'm not really sure [what's going on]. I'm just up there hitting it, and I was down 1-2, same deal as yesterday. I wasn't really looking for anything, and I got a curveball and just got the barrel to it. I thought it was going to go foul, but it straightened out a lot. I don't know what happened to it, but it stayed fair so I was pretty happy."

Oklahoma State pitcher Andrew Oliver

On the game

"I was just preparing myself to pitch like I would start the game. As far as the game, I thought it was exciting. We got a couple of huge plays to help us out to get out of the inning. Our guys were ready to play, and they came swinging the bats. I was just trying to battle that other guy because he was putting up zeroes, but I thought overall we were ready to play this game."

On the eighth inning and giving up two runs

"I felt good. They started leaning toward the other half of the plate towards the end there and found some holes."

Cowboys Headed To Clemson For NCAA Regional OSU making 37th NCAA Tournament appearance, fifth under Anderson

OSU NCAA Clemson Regional Game Notes in PDF Format

May 27, 2009

Oklahoma State (32-22)
at The 2009 NCAA Clemson Regional
May 29-June 1 • Clemson, S.C.
Doug Kingsmore Stadium (6,217)

Oklahoma State

The Cowboys enter the 2009 NCAA Baseball Championship with a 32-22 record. OSU, the No. 3 seed at the Clemson Regional, opens play in the double-elimination tourney Friday against Alabama at 2:06 p.m. (CST) at Doug Kingsmore Stadium in Clemson, S.C. The winner of the Clemson Regional advances to face the Tempe (Ariz.) Regional champion in a Super Regional.

The Cowboys are the No. 3 seed in the Clemson Regional.

OSU is making its fourth-straight NCAA Tournament appearance and fifth in six seasons under head coach Frank Anderson, who has led the Cowboys to a 9-8 record in NCAA tourney play.

The Cowboys sport a .304 team batting average on the season and rank among the Big 12 Conference leaders in several offensive categories.

OSU's pitching staff has a collective 4.60 ERA and ranks among the Big 12's best with 14 saves and 486 strikeouts.

OSU In The NCAA Tournament

Oklahoma State is making its 37th appearance in the NCAA Tournament, which ranks fourth on the NCAA's all-time list. The Cowboys are 132-79 (.626) all time in the NCAA tourney, and the 132 wins ranks sixth all time. OSU's 19 College World Series appearances are the fifth-most in NCAA history.

The Clemson Regional Field

Top-seeded and host Clemson brings a 40-19 record into the postseason. OSU is 1-2 all time against the Tigers, with the last meeting coming in the 1996 College World Series.

Second-seeded Alabama is 37-19 on the year. The Cowboys are 0-2 all time vs. the Crimson Tide, with the last meeting coming in the 1999 College World Series.

Rounding out the field is Ohio Valley Conference champion and No. 4-seed Tennessee Tech, which is 30-22-1. OSU has never faced the Golden Eagles on the diamond.

On The Air & The Web

All OSU baseball games are carried live by Stillwater Radio on KSPI 93.7 FM and/or 780 AM. Rex Holt, who is in his 27th season as the play-by-play voice of Cowboy baseball, will call the action, with Matt Davis providing color.

Radio broadcasts and live stats can also be accessed via www.okstate.com (links are available under Multimedia).

The Clemson Regional games are also being televised by Comcast Sports Southeast.

About Clemson

The Tigers are 40-19 on the season. This is their 34th NCAA Tournament appearance.

OSU 0702

Players To Watch

- 1B Ben Paulsen (.368, 11 HR, 55 RBI)
- LHP Casey Harman (7-3, save, 3.86 ERA)

About Alabama

The Crimson Tide bring a 37-19 mark into the postseason, and 2009 marks their 17th NCAA tourney berth.

Players To Watch

- RF Kent Matthes (.365, 28 HR, 81 RBI)
- RHP Austin Hyatt (8-2, 3.14 ERA, 2 CG)

About Tennessee Tech

The Golden Eagles are 30-22-1 and are making their fourth-ever NCAA Tournament appearance.

Players To Watch

- DH A.J. Kirby-Jones (.344, 20 HR, 66 RBI)
- RHP Lee Henry (9-2, 2 saves, 2.96 ERA, 5 CG)

Home Sweet Home

Allie P. Reynolds Stadium has been home to Oklahoma State baseball since 1981, and in those 28-plus seasons the Cowboys have been nearly unbeatable on their home field.

The Cowboys are 740-159 (.823) all-time at Reynolds Stadium and have lost more than two consecutive games on their home turf only once (six in a row in May 2007).

OSU is 19-9 at Reynolds Stadium in 2009.

200 Club

With the Cowboys' season-opening win over BYU, Frank Anderson became the fifth head coach in OSU history to reach 200 career victories. He is the third-fastest coach to reach the milestone in Stillwater behind Gary Ward and Tom Holliday.

Anderson is in his sixth season at OSU and owns an overall career record of 231-130, which includes an 88-71 mark in Big 12 play.

Aluminum Assault

Over the last several seasons, OSU has established itself among the top hitting teams not only in the Big 12 Conference but on a national scale.

In 2009, the Cowboys rank among the Big 12's best in batting average (.304), triples (21), home runs (73) and slugging percentage (.506).

Last season, OSU led the Big 12 in three offensive categories -- batting average (.326), slugging percentage (.531) and home runs (89). The Cowboys finished second in the league in runs, hits, triples and RBIs.

In '06, OSU led the Big 12 in homers, triples and slugging percentage, and in 2007 the Cowboys led the Big 12 in six offensive categories and ranked second in two more.

Kings Of The Hill

OSU also had one of the top pitching staffs in college baseball in 2008, and the '09 version has been solid as well.

Four different Cowboy hurlers have at least five wins in 2009, and the pitching staff ranks among the Big 12 Conference leaders in saves (14) and strikeouts (486).

Last season, the Cowboys led the Big 12 with a 3.98 team ERA and also topped the league with 21 saves. The staff returned seven pitchers who made at least eight appearances and worked 15 or more innings in '08.

OSU's 3.98 ERA in '08 marked the first time since 2005 the Cowboys' finished the season with a team ERA under 4.00. The '05 and '08 seasons are the only two since 1974 that OSU has had an ERA of less than 4.00.

Short Hops

- The Cowboys are 8-11 against ranked teams in 2009, including three wins over Top 10 teams (#6 Cal State Fullerton, #7 Baylor & #9 Texas).

- The last time OSU earned a No. 3 seed at the NCAA Tournament came in 2007. That season, the Cowboys won the Fayetteville Regional and advanced to the second Super Regional in school history.

- In the latest official NCAA RPI rankings, OSU came in at No. 26. The Big 12 Conference had seven teams among the top 31 in the RPI.

- Two Cowboy pitchers had career-best strikeout performances against Oklahoma. Tyler Lyons racked up 13 strikeouts, the most by an OSU pitcher this season and three more than his previous career high, and Tyler Blandford bested his previous high with a 12-strikeout effort.

- Sophomore Tom Belza hit safely in the final 12 Big 12 Conference games, hitting .500 (23-for-46) with 10 RBIs during the streak.

- Tyler Blandford (95) and Andrew Oliver (91) are both on the verge of reaching the century mark in strikeouts this season. OSU has not had a pitcher collect 100 strikeouts in a season since Matt Smith had 114 in 2000.

Cowboys Excited About NCAA Regional Opportunity

Clemson Regional Preview

May 23, 2009

STILLWATER, Okla. — Oklahoma State earned one of 64 spots in the 2009 NCAA Baseball Championship field and will be headed to the NCAA Clearinghouse Regional for this week.

The Cowboys, who are 32-12 on the season, are the third seed at the Clemson Regional. The host team on the line is seeded 18th, with No. 2 seed Alabama and No. 10 seed Tennessee both rounding out the field.

OSU opened regional play Friday at 2 p.m. (CST) against Alabama.

Several members of the Cowboy baseball team met with the media today to discuss their NCAA tournament selection, and the following is a sample of quotes from their players and OSU head coach Frank Anderson, who has guided the Cowboys to straight NCAA appearances over the last 10 seasons in each coach.

OSU will be making its 17th NCAA Regional appearance in baseball.

On being selected to the tournament field
"Obviously we're excited. We weren't sure what was going to happen with the conference. When you put it in the hands of somebody else to make those decisions, you're always unsure about what's going to happen. We had a good idea we had a good NCAA RPI enough and so we knew we had a chance."

On why OSU got in
"I think the 100-120 conference is as much as anything. I think our RPI, conference wins, it's as good as it's ever been so I think that's the biggest reason."

On putting the regular season behind them
"It's a new season for everybody at this point. It's a clean slate for everybody. If you have to do something to get excited to play, you need to do something else. This is a fun time of the year."

On the Clemson Regional
"There's some really good teams. It's a tough regional. Clemson is a really good place to play. They draw really well, there's going to be good fan support. Alabama is not that far away in their games here and in regional. And we've actually played pretty good games. We have good, strong coaches. It's one of the better regional areas, and we're looking forward to it."

Junior pitcher Kyle Lyons
"We being selected to the tournament field... Some people said we wouldn't do it, but we got in and that's all that matters. I could see it going both ways. I don't know if we'd get in or not, but I was optimistic. I'm just excited to get in. I don't really care who we played or where we went. We just wanted to."

On putting the regular season behind them
"I think if we go out there and win a few games, win a Regional and who knows what that. I don't think anyone will remember we didn't make the Big 12 Tournament and want to remember that we didn't have a very good Big 12 record."

On watching the NCAA Championships selection show
"Some people didn't want to watch, some people did, some people were at the field, some people were at the ballpark. I did myself. I wasn't going to watch, but I ended up watching. There's a lot of great, some exciting news that had me interested to I ended up watching."

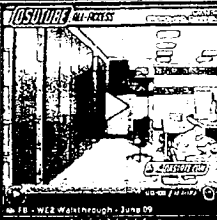

Junior outfielder Ted Lech
"On being selected to the tournament field... We were a lot of the guys were down, including myself. We practiced all week thinking we weren't going to get in. But then we got in and we were all of a sudden up. Honestly, that will work us a little bit, and we'll try to make things happen."

On playing with a chip on your shoulder
"With everyone saying we shouldn't be there, it gives us extra motivation, especially for a team that has underachieved all year and knowing that we can do some big things and surprise some people."

Senior third baseman Leann Alonzo
"On being selected to the tournament field... I was really nervous this morning, didn't really give it much of a thought but it was always in the back of my head that we did have a chance and I'm excited. I can't wait to play this weekend."

On why OSU got in
"There are a lot of things that go into it, not one factor that helps more than another. Definitely our RPI and strength of schedule. We beat some good teams early in the year and we play a quality team every week. Eight teams from the Big 12 are going to the postseason. That's a big number when you look at it. And every time we rolled out on a weekend we played quality opposition. The biggest thing that worked in our favor was we came from just a good conference."

On putting the regular season behind them
"We didn't have the year that we planned obviously. But we won some games when we had to and lost a lot of games by a small margin. But overall, there's a second chance to prove to some teams that we should be there. We're there, and we feel like we're good enough to be there. I know a lot of people out there don't, but we're there and I think we can prove to some people that we should be there."

OSU will be making its 17th NCAA Regional appearance in baseball.

Cowboys Lose Series Opener To Texas Tech

4/14/09

OSU fails to qualify for conference tournament for first time since 1977

May 15, 2009

OSU STATE UNIVERSITY

Lubbock, Texas - Texas Tech scored an unearned run in the bottom of the eighth inning to lift the Red Raiders to a 9-3 win over Oklahoma State Friday night at Dan Law Field.

With the loss, the Cowboys were eliminated from contention for next week's Big 12 Conference Championship, marking the first time since 1977 OSU has failed to make the conference tournament. OSU is now 30-22 overall and 7-14 in league play.

The game was tied 8-8 with two outs in the bottom of the eighth when OSU shortstop Tommy Bets dropped a pop up in shallow center field that allowed Wade Blanks to score from second base with what proved to be the game-winning run. OSU put the tying run on first base at the top of the ninth when Chris Bets led off the inning with a single, but Michael Debbas barked out and Michael Debbas grounded into a game-ending double play to seal the Cowboys' fate.

The loss marked a night that saw the Cowboys blast four home runs, including two from Debbas, and get a strong relief outing on the mound from sophomore Luiz Figueira, who suffered the tough loss despite a career effort.

OSU took the game's first lead with a pair of runs in its first at bat. Debbas led off the game with a single, and Travis Tatum followed with a two-run home run over the wall in left-center field. The blast was Hamby's eighth home of the season.

The Red Raiders (24-26, 12-13) scored their deficit and took the lead in the second inning, scoring five runs before OSU pitched an error as Cowboys starter Asheley Smith inability to find the strike zone proved costly. By the time the inning ended, TTU had scored seven runs on four hits and three walks.

After losing the bases on a single, walk and fielder's choice, an RBI walk by Michael Reed made the score 2-1. Omer Tatum then brought home the tying run on an infield single, and the Red Raiders' rally continued thanks to another RBI walk, this one giving TTU the lead.

Texas Tech was out there, adding two runs on a double by Rhonda and two more on a single by Chris Richburg to take a 7-2 lead before the Cowboys finally got out of the inning with a double play.

The Red Raiders knocked Omer from the game with another run in the third before OSU began its comeback in the fourth.

Once again, the big blow for the Cowboys would come via the long ball, as Debbas delivered an opposite field, three-run home run in left field to lift OSU's lead to 8-3. OSU added another run later in the frame when Hamby, who had followed Debbas with a single, scored from third on a wild pitch.

The score remained 8-6 until the seventh when Debbas blasted his second home of the game, a solo shot with two outs that cleared the bases in right field.

OSU's power surge continued in the eighth as the Cowboys tied the game at 8-8 on Neil Macdonald's 17th home run of the season, a solo blast in left-center field off TTU closer Chris Britz that led him with Debbas for the team lead in homers.

The game did not remain tied for long, however, as the Red Raiders scored the decisive run in the bottom of the eighth. Rhonda struggled with one out, and after advancing to second on a wild pitch, he scored the tying run when Bets dropped the pop up off the bat of Richburg.

Pinpoint fell to 1-1 on the season despite working a career-long 32 innings and racking up a career-best eight strikeouts. The night transfer succeeded just three hits, and the unearned run in the eighth was the only run he allowed.

Debbas led the offense with a 3-for-4, four-RBI night, while Hamby, Mark Oquity and Drew Duren each collected two hits.

Omer lasted just 2.1 innings and allowed eight runs on seven hits. The junior left hander walked three and recorded just one strikeout.

Britz picked up the win with two innings in relief to improve to 3-0.

The two teams return to action Saturday at 1 p.m.

Cowboys Drop Game, Series To Oklahoma

OSU loses Bedlam Series for first time since 2005

Box Score

May 9, 2009

OKLAHOMA CITY -- Oklahoma scored two unearned runs on passed balls in the top of the ninth inning to earn a 7-3 win over Oklahoma State on front of 9,695 fans Saturday night at the AT&T Bricktown Ballpark.

OSU's loss drops the Cowboys to 20-21 overall and 6-13 in Big 12 Conference play and made the first loss since 2005 OSU has lost a series to the Sooners.

Tyler Lyons was the tough left-hander for the Cowboys despite a career performance on the mound. The junior right-hander racked up a career-high 13 strikeouts, breaking his previous career high of 10 set last season against Baylor. He worked eight innings and allowed six runs, five of them earned, on 11 hits.

The decisive ninth inning began when OSU third baseman Lyons misplayed a ground ball off the bat of Matt Hargraves. The error put the tying run on first for the Sooners and drove Lyons from the game.

Up next, the Cowboys tried Hargraves on a fielder's choice, but Bryant Hernandez reached first safely and took second on the first of four passed balls by OSU catcher Kevin Davis in the ninth.

After Frank McCarty struck out J. T. Wise for the second out of the inning, the Cowboys desperately needed Aaron Baker. Another passed ball moved the runners up to second and third before Garrett Ruchette walked to load the bases.

With the bases loaded, the third passed ball of the inning allowed Hernandez to score the go-ahead run, and Baker scored on the fourth and final passed ball of the frame to make the score 7-3.

OU (7-15, 14-9) took the game's final lead with a pair of runs in the top of the first inning. James Johnson led off the game with a double, and a single and a walk loaded the bases with one out. Lyons got Baker to pop out for the second out of the inning, but Bluechilde two out, two RBI single put the Sooners on top.

The Cowboys tied the score in the bottom of the inning with a two-out play of their own, compliments of Davis's fifth home run of the season. Davis blasted a 1-0 offering from OU starter J.R. Robinson over the wall in left field for a two-run, game-tying shot.

OSU took its first lead in the third, sending seven batters to the plate and scoring two runs on four hits.

Michael Eubanks led off the inning with a bunt single, and after a sacrifice bunt by Humbly, Nate Madril doubled to right field to make the score 3-2. Two batters later, Tom Ratter delivered a two-out RBI single to double OSU's lead.

That lead did not last long as OU rallied for three runs with two outs in the fourth. Hernandez got the scoring started as he neared an RBI double down the left field line on an 0-2 count to make the score 4-3, and Wise followed with a single through the left side to plate a pair of runs and give the Sooners a one-run advantage.

In the bottom of the fourth, OSU loaded the bases with one out after a single and two walks. But OU reliever Chase Anderson struck out Nedich and David to end the rally.

The score remained 3-4 until the bottom of the sixth, when Delon led off the inning with his 10th home run of the season, a blast into the bullpen in right field that tied the score.

Lyons pitched out of trouble in the seventh, Aaron Baker doubled with one out and advanced to third on a wild pitch, but the Cowboy reliever struck out the next two batters to end the inning unscathed.

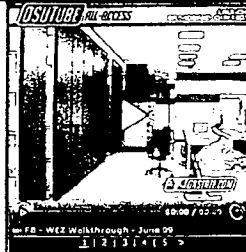

Anderson picked up the win with five innings in relief to improve to 2-1 on the season, while Ryan Duke struck out the side in the ninth for his 12th save.

Sunrise's series finale is set for 3:40 p.m. start.

vs. #16 Kansas State (33-11-1, 10-7-1)
May 1-2 • Fri. - 3 p.m. (DH) • Sat. - 2 p.m.
Stillwater, Okla. • Allie P. Reynolds Stadium (4,000)

Oklahoma State

The Cowboys are 29-17 overall and have won eight of their last 11 games. OSU returns to Big 12 Conference action this weekend when the Cowboys host No. 16 Kansas State at Allie P. Reynolds Stadium. The Cowboys are ninth in the conference standings with a 6-11 league mark. OSU is 1-4-1 in its Big 12 series in 2009.

Due to a forecast calling for rain in Stillwater this weekend, the series schedule has changed. The two teams will play a doubleheader Friday, with the first game scheduled for 3 p.m., and the series finale is scheduled for Saturday at 2 p.m.

With seven regulars in the starting lineup hitting .305 or better, OSU sports a .304 team batting average on the season and ranks among the Big 12 leaders in several offensive categories.

OSU's pitching staff has a collective 4.57 ERA and leads the Big 12 with 14 saves. The Cowboys' staff has also racked up 420 strikeouts, which ranks second in the league.

Kansas State

The Wildcats are 33-11-1 overall and in fourth place in the Big 12 Conference standings with a 10-7-1 mark. KSU is 5-0-1 in its last six games and has won three of its six league series this season.

K-State is hitting .324 as a team and sports a 3.74 team ERA, both of which rank second in the Big 12. The Wildcats also lead the league with 118 stolen bases.

In The Polls

Oklahoma State is ranked No. 26 in the NCBWA poll.

Kansas State's highest ranking is 16th by Baseball America. The Wildcats are also ranked 21st in the USA Today/ESPN coaches poll, 23rd in the NCBWA poll and 24th by Collegiate Baseball.

On The Air & The Web

All OSU baseball games are carried live by Stillwater Radio on KSPI 93.7 FM and/or 780 AM. Rex Holt, who is in his 27th season as the play-by-play voice of Cowboy baseball, will call the action, with Matt Davis providing color.

Home Sweet Home

Allie P. Reynolds Stadium has been home to Oklahoma State baseball since 1981, and in those 28-plus seasons the Cowboys have been nearly unbeatable on their home field.

OSU 0716

The Cowboys are 740-157 (.825) all-time at Reynolds Stadium and have lost more than two consecutive games on their home turf only once (six in a row in May 2007). OSU is 19-7 at Reynolds Stadium in 2009.

200 Club

With the Cowboys' season-opening win over BYU, Frank Anderson became the fifth head coach in OSU history to reach 200 career victories. He is the third-fastest coach to reach the milestone in Stillwater behind Gary Ward and Tom Holliday.

Anderson is in his sixth season at OSU and owns an overall career record of 228-125, which includes an 85-66 mark in Big 12 play.

Aluminum Assault

Over the last several seasons, OSU has established itself among the top hitting teams not only in the Big 12 Conference but on a national scale.

Thus far in 2009, the Cowboys rank among the Big 12's best in batting average (.304), runs (341), hits (478), triples (18), home runs (58), RBI (321) and slugging percentage (.501).

Last season, OSU led the Big 12 in three offensive categories -- batting average (.326), slugging percentage (.531) and home runs (89). The Cowboys finished second in the league in runs, hits, triples and RBIs.

In '06, OSU led the Big 12 in homers, triples and slugging percentage, and in 2007 the Cowboys led the Big 12 in six offensive categories and ranked second in two more.

Kings Of The Hill

OSU also had one of the top pitching staffs in college baseball in 2008, and the '09 version has been solid as well.

Four different Cowboy hurlers have at least five wins in 2009, and the pitching staff leads the Big 12 in saves (14) while ranking second in strikeouts (420).

Last season, the Cowboys led the Big 12 with a 3.98 team ERA and also topped the league with 21 saves. The staff returned seven pitchers who made at least eight appearances and worked 15 or more innings in '08.

OSU's 3.98 ERA in '08 marked the first time since 2005 the Cowboys' finished the season with a team ERA under 4.00.

The '05 and '08 seasons are the only two since 1974 that OSU has had an ERA of less than 4.00.

Short Hops

- The Cowboys are 7-7 against ranked teams in 2009, including three wins over Top 10 teams (#6 Cal State Fullerton, #7 Baylor & #9 Texas).

- OSU pitchers Tyler Blandford, Andrew Oliver and Thomas Keeling rank third, fourth and seventh, respectively, in the Big 12 in strikeouts.

- An OSU player has led the Big 12 in batting average each of the last two seasons -- Ty Wright in 2007 and Tom Belza in 2008 -- and the Cowboys have one of the league's top hitters again in 2009 in Kevin David, who ranks 13th in the league with a .354 average.

- In the latest official NCAA RPI rankings, OSU comes in at No. 24. The Big 12 Conference has seven teams among the top 37 in the RPI.

- Andrew Oliver's 37 career starts on the mound is ninth all time at OSU.

- Jeff Breedlove has made 66 appearances on the mound during his career, which is tied for eighth on OSU's all-time list.

- Andrew Oliver and Tyler Lyons are both on the verge of cracking the Top 10 on OSU's career wins list. Oliver needs four wins and Lyons five to reach 22, which would place them 10th on the all-time list along with Scott Baker, Greg Dean and Marv Rockman.

Cowboys Set To Host Missouri In Conference Home Opener Oklahoma State is 17-7 on the season after sweeping a pair midweek games against UNLV, which followed opening Big 12 Conference play last weekend by going 1-2 at Nebraska. Oklahoma State

The Cowboys are 17-7 on the season after sweeping a pair midweek games against UNLV, which followed opening Big 12 Conference play last weekend by going 1-2 at Nebraska.

OSU returns to Big 12 action this weekend against Missouri at Allie P. Reynolds Stadium, where the Cowboys have won nine of their 12 games this season. The series schedule has shifted to Saturday-Monday due to inclement weather in Stillwater. With seven regulars in the starting lineup hitting .314 or better, the Cowboys sport a .319 team batting average on the season and rank among the Big 12 leaders in several offensive categories.

OSU's pitching staff has a collective 5.43 ERA and leads the league with 10 saves. The Cowboys' staff has also racked up 221 strikeouts, which ranks second in the league.

Colorado Springs, Colo. - James Anderson, a junior-to-be on Oklahoma State's Cowboy Basketball squad, has accepted an invitation to participate in the 2009 USA Men's World University Games Team Trials. It was announced today. The training camp will take place June 16-24 in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Anderson is coming off a sophomore season in which he led the Cowboys to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Junction City, Ark., native averaged a team-high 18.2 points per game and was named All-Big 12 Second Team by the conference office.

The World University Games is organized by the International University Sports Federation and is held every other year. The 2009 men's basketball competition will take place July 2-12 in Belgrade, Serbia, with 24 men's teams expected to compete for the gold. Eligible athletes for the USA team must be currently enrolled in a college or university and have remaining athletic eligibility.

Anderson is one of 15 players which will compete for 12 spots on the squad, including three from the Big 12 Conference. Others include: Tabor Battle, Penn State; Trevor Denker, Clemson; Craig Brackins, Iowa State; De'Sean Butler, West Virginia; Shannon Collins, Kansas; Mike Davis, Illinois; Corey Hayes, Villanova; Dean Hayward, Marquette; Robbie Hummel and Jaluan Johnson, Purdue; Quincy Ponderster, Washington; Dean Thompson, North Carolina; Evan Turner, Ohio State; and Jarvis Varnado, Mississippi State.

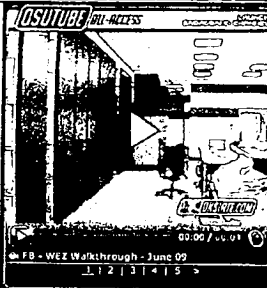

University of Wisconsin head coach Bo Ryan has been selected by USA Basketball to serve as head coach of the 2009 USA Men's World University Games Team.

"These guys are some of the best college players in the country and I think they're guys who would be future Olympic candidates," said Jim Boeheim, chair of the USA Basketball Men's Junior National Team Committee and head coach at Syracuse. "This is a great opportunity for them to play for their country and get an understanding of the international game. I think this is a great group of college players. This should be a great experience for them and they should represent USA Basketball very well."

The eventual 12 member USA team will be announced prior to the team's departure for Serbia on June 25.

James Anderson led the Cowboys with 18.2 points per game last season as a sophomore.

OSU vs. Oklahoma ... The Series

OU vs. Oklahoma in the Series

Oklahoma owns a 46-35 lead in the all-time series after the two teams split last season. OSU snapped a 17-game losing streak against their in-state rival last season with an 82-63 win in front of a capacity crowd inside Gallagher-Iba Arena. OU returned the favor with an 81-71 win in Norman. Overall, the Sooners hold an 18-17 edge in Stillwater.

Scouting Oklahoma

Struggling Offense
The Sooners are playing quite late in the league at 7-0 and have won their last 15 games overall. The offense is struggling, scoring 80-70, last Monday in Oklahoma City to improve to 19-2. OSU comes to town carrying a No. 2 national ranking and is the highest ranked opponent OSU has faced since taking on No. 7 Texas Tech on Jan. 10, 2004. OSU possesses a balanced offensive attack that features five players in double figures in the scoring column. The Sooners are paced by All-American Courtney Paris' 15.4 points and 13.5 rebounds per game.

Cowgirls Sixth In Preseason Regional Rankings

As expected, the Oklahoma State men's cross country team finds itself ranked No. 1 in the Midwest Region in the preseason rankings released today by the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association. The Oklahoma State women's team is at No. 6.

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — As expected, the Oklahoma State men's cross country team found itself ranked No. 1 in the Midwest Region in the preseason rankings released today by the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association. The Oklahoma State women's team is ranked sixth.

With returning All-Americans Ryan Vail and David Christy in the lineup to go with incoming OSU transfer John Peterson and the nation's top recruit in Carmen Hernandez, coach Dave Smith has a promising 2006 season ahead. To an NCAA championship team's "caliber." The Cowboys played third at the NCAA Championships last year and should be ready to enter this year.

The Cowboys have dominated the NCAA Midwest Region lately, winning the team title each of the last three years and earning individual four times in the last five years. Looking up at the Cowboys in this year's preseason rankings are No. 2 Missouri, No. 3 Iowa State, No. 4 Tulsa and No. 5 Missouri, among others.

Cash Roper, head coach of the women's team, says the season ranked sixth in the Midwest Region, with Missouri, Illinois, Nebraska, Iowa and Tulsa remaining the top five. The Cowboys are solid at the top of the lineup with sophomore All-American performer Marissa Sura and senior junior Toni Hightower leading the way. The remainder of OSU's roster will have to make their names in the season, and OSU transfer Natalie Ketch and freshman Britany Johnson and Victoria Heston likely to be regular contributors.

The women's team is in action this Saturday when the 10 teams compete at the Iowa State Invitational and the 10 team competes at the Missouri State Invitational. The next men's competition is the Cowboys Invitational in Oct. 6.

No. 6 Cowgirls Equestrian Faces Texas A&M and TCU

CS 441 441 53

The Oklahoma State Equestrian team faces two Top 10 squads this weekend as the team hits the road to Texas. The first stop puts the Cowgirls against Texas A&M Saturday where OSU will be looking to evenge a 14-11 loss they had against Texas A&M back in November. The Oklahoma State Equestrian team faces two Top 10 squads this weekend as the team hits the road to Texas.

The first stop puts the Cowgirls against Texas A&M Saturday where OSU will be looking to evenge a 14-11 loss they had against Texas A&M back in November.

The Aggies are ranked third in the most recent coaches poll and have a 6-3 record this season. Texas A&M is tied for second in the Big 12 with the Cowgirls at 3-2. The Aggies are 1-3 in their last four with two defeats against Big 12-leading Baylor. The Cowgirls and Aggies will square off at 11 a.m. on Saturday in College Station, Texas.

The Cowgirls are coming off a 16-0 triumph over Delaware State to advance their record to 6-3. In that show, Oklahoma State completed a sweep in the English portion of the show and also finished off the Hornets on the Western side. Oklahoma State took home all four MVP honors.

The Cowgirl English portion of the team has advanced to 5-4 on the season under the leadership of associate head coach Suzanne Flagg. In equitation on the flat, the Cowgirls hold a 6-2 advantage over opponents. Showing in the discipline Saturday are seniors Sam Collingsworth, Charlotte Collingsworth and Sarah Summers, juniors Ally Blais and Jen McLaughlin and freshmen Sarah Brown and Jordan White. Blais, Sam Collingsworth, Charlotte Collingsworth and Summers have each earned seven victories on the season while combining for seven MVP honors in their nine shows. Brown and McLaughlin have each added two victories on the year.

The second event for Blais will be equitation over fences. Along with Blais will be senior Jody Osterstock, sophomores Hannah Beresford, Alice White and Erin Pritow and freshmen Taryn Nolte and Katie Nix. Blais holds an 8-1 record in the event with one MVP. Osterstock holds an MVP and four wins, while White has also contributed four victories.

The Cowgirl Western team, lead by head coach Larry Sanchez, has started the season 6-2. In the horsemanship discipline, the Cowgirls hold a 5-2 record. Showing in horsemanship on Saturday will be seniors Jordan Pickelmen and Leigha Stevenson, junior Suzanne Randolph, sophomores Morgan Tucker, Courtney Whitacre and Lauren Olsen and freshmen Nichole Chirco and Maria Tomin. Pickelmen leads the Cowgirls with a 7-1 record and one MVP. Whitacre has captured six victories this year and three MVPs. Tucker holds an MVP and four victories, Chirco has pitched in four wins and Randolph has three.

The reining discipline has been owned by the Cowgirls all season, as the team holds a 6-0 record this season. Riding in the discipline for the Cowgirls will be senior Jacque Roberts, juniors Leah Kuehn, Rachel Shobe and Molly Tipton, sophomore Bri Parnell and freshmen Caroline Daniels and Rachel Heuchin. Roberts has earned two MVPs, Kuehn and Parnell have each acquired an MVP and the trio has combined for 10 victories. Shobe has picked up five wins and Tipton has earned four on the season.

In their second competition of the weekend, the Cowgirls will travel to Mansfield, Texas, to take on the TCU Horned Frogs. The show will start at 10 a.m. on Sunday. TCU is ranked No. 7 in the most recent coaches poll and holds a 3-4 record on the year. The Horned Frogs have faced two Big 12 teams, dropping both shows, Baylor and Texas A&M.

Competing in equitation over fences for the Cowgirls Sunday will be Blais, Osterstock, Nolte, Beresford and Alice White. In the equitation on the flat discipline, Blais, Charlotte Collingsworth, Sam Collingsworth, Summers and Brown will show for the Cowgirls.

On the Western side of the competition, Chirco, Pickelmen, Randolph, Tucker and Whitacre will be showing for Oklahoma State in the horsemanship discipline. In the reining discipline, the Cowgirl competitors will be Kuehn, Parnell, Roberts, Shobe and Tipton.

The fifth-ranked Cowgirls improved to 3-0 on the year, while the No. 6 Bears fell to 2-1.

The Western team has now won both shows this season to move to 2-0 while the English has won all three competitions they have been a part of this season.

In the Western disciplines on Saturday, the Cowgirls won by a score of 8-4 over the Bears. The Cowgirls started the day with a 3-3 tie in the horsemanship discipline. Sophomore Courtney Whitacre picked up the MVP for the discipline with a win of 75-72.5 over Baylor's McGee.

Along with Whitacre, Senior Jordan Pickelmen and sophomore Margaux Tucker also earned victories for the Cowgirls. Whitacre, Pickelmen, and Tucker all remain undefeated for the season in the horsemanship category.

To round out the day for the Western team the reining girls won by a score of 5-1. Sophomore Brianna Parnell picked up the MVP in the category with a 73-66.5 victory over Baylor's Piddle. In addition to Parnell, senior Jacque Roberts and juniors Leah Kuehn, Rachel Shobe, and Molly Tipton also picked up victories in the reining discipline.

Parnell, Roberts, Kuehn, Shobe, and Tipton are all 2-0 this season.

In the Hunt Seat competition the Cowgirls defeated the Bears 7-5.

The English team started off the day with a 3-3 tie in the equitation over fences category. Senior Jadlyn Osterstock, junior Ally Blas and sophomore Alioe White picked up the three victories for the Cowgirls in the discipline. Osterstock picked up her third win on the season in the fences category.

The Cowgirls finished off the day with a 4-2 victory in the equitation on the flat discipline. Senior Sam Collingsworth picked up the MVP in this discipline for her second in three shows. Seniors Charlotte Collingsworth and Sarah Summers and sophomore Ally Blais pick up the other three victories in the category.

Charlotte Collingsworth, Sam Collingsworth, Summers, and Blais all move to stay undefeated and move to 3-0 on the season.

The Cowgirls will be in action next against Fresno State University on October 25 in Fresno, Calif.

Cowgirls Slip Into Seventh Place At NCAA Championship

OWINGS MILLS, Md.

Results

Oklahoma State's women's golf team carded a 309 during its third round at the NCAA Championship on Thursday to stand in seventh place at Caves Valley Golf Club.

The Cowgirls' 21-over day moved them to 909, 45-over, for the tournament. OSU will enter its final round one shot behind Virginia for sixth, two strokes behind fifth-place Denver and three strokes behind North Carolina for fourth place.

The top three teams on the leaderboard are separated by just three shots after Southern California surged to the lead with a 294 for an 890 total. Arizona State moved into the runner-up position after carding a 291 to get to 891, while UCLA stands in third place at 893.

USC's Jennifer Song is the only player in the 120-player field at even par or better. Song carded a 71 and stands two shots clear of the field at 215.

OSU's Pernilla Lindberg maintained her spot in the top 10, moving down two spots into a tie for eighth place after carding a 76. The Bollnas, Sweden native overcame a rough four-hole stretch on her front nine that included three double bogeys sandwiched around a birdie at the fourth hole. After making the turn at 5-over, Lindberg birdied the par-4 10th and added another birdie at the 15th hole to come in with a 1-under 35.

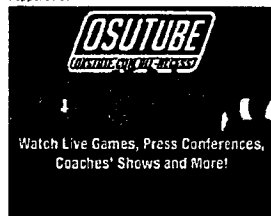

The Cowgirl senior will enter her final collegiate round with a 8-over total of 222.

Senior Amanda Johnson will begin her final round tied for 64th place at 233 after turning in a 79.

Joining Johnson at 233 was classmate Karin Kinnerud, who posted a third-round 81.

The Cowgirls will begin their final round tomorrow at 1:00 p.m. (EST) and will be paired with Duke and Pepperdine.

Cowgirl Golf Moves Into Fourth Place At NCAA Championship

May 20, 2009

OWINGS HILLS, Md.

Results

Oklahoma State's women's golf team carded a 9-over 297 during its second round at the NCAA Championship on Wednesday to move into a three-way tie for fourth place at Caves Valley Golf Club.

The fourth-ranked Cowgirls have a 36-hole total of 600, 74-over par, and are tied with Arizona State and North Carolina.

UCLA broke 300 for the second consecutive day with a 5-over 293 to move to the top of the team standings at 589, 13-over. With their total, the Bruins stand seven shots clear of the field at the event's midway point. Southern California is in second place at 596, while Denver fell two spots and is in third place at 598.

UCLA's Marie Jose Uribe charged up the leaderboard with a 6-under 65, moving her from a 25th place tie into first place at 3-under 141.

OSU senior Fernita Lindberg continued to lead the way for the Cowgirls. After opening with a 74 on Tuesday, the Bellini, Sweden native posted a team-best 72 during her second round to move up six spots into a tie for sixth place at 146.

Lindberg opened with a birdie and fell back to even with a bogey at the per-five third hole. With a bogey at the eighth, she turned at 1-over and posted three-straight pars to begin her back nine. However, Lindberg got back into red figures with birdies at the 13th and 14th before moving back to level par with a bogey two holes later.

Freshman Caroline Masson moved up 30 spots into a tie for 20th place after posting a 73 for a two-day total of 150. The Gladbeck, Germany native turned at 1-over and dipped to 2-over after a bogey at the 10th. Masson reeled off eight pars in a row before finishing her day with a birdie at the 18th.

Senior Karin Kinnerud played holes four through 14 1-under per on route to a 74. Kinnerud's 2-over tally helped her make a big move as well, vaulting her from a tie for 65th into a tie for 37th place at 152.

Freshman Caroline McDaniel and senior Aracelis Johnson are among the group tied for 65th place at 10-over 154 after posting 78s.

The Cowgirls will begin their third round at noon (EST) at the par-72, 6,443-yard layout and will play with Arizona State and North Carolina. Live scoring for the event is available at golstat.com.

Oklahoma State's women's golf team wrapped up its ninth consecutive NCAA Championship berth on Saturday after finishing in fourth place at the NCAA Central Regional at Ohio State's Scarlet Course.

On a day that saw scores balloon at the par-72, 6,246-yard layout due to gusting winds, the second-seeded Cowgirls posted a 24-over score of 312 during their final round to dip from the No. 3 spot into fourth place. OSU finished with a 54-hole total of 901, 37 over par.

None of the 21 teams in the field broke 300 with UCLA turning in the low round of the day with a 15-over 303. The Bruins cruised to the team title, finishing at 13-over 877 and 19 shots ahead of runner-up Purdue's 896. Wake Forest finished two shots ahead of the Cowgirls for third place at 899.

Despite snapping OSU's two-tournament winning streak, the finish made it five top five showings in six tournaments under first-year head coach Annie Young.

The Cowgirls did place a pair of freshmen in the top 10 with Caroline Hedwall and Caroline Masson tying for 10th place at 9-over 225. Masson posted a 77 during her final round to earn her fifth career top 10, while Hedwall's 77 was good for her sixth top-10 outing.

UCLA's Mario Jose Unzu took top individual honors with a 4-under total of 212.

Senior Perdita Lindberg finished a stroke behind her teammates with a 226 total after carding a 79 on her own to wrap up play.

Kenn Kinnerud matched Masson for the squad's low round of the day. The OSU senior's 77 gave her a 54-hole total of 231 and tied her for 35th place.

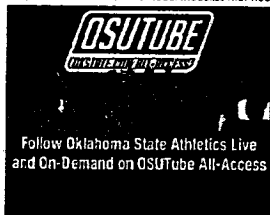

Senior Amanda Johnson finished with an 82 for a 242 title, tying her for 78th place.

The top eight squads in the 21-team field advanced to the NCAA Championship finals at Caves Valley Golf Club in Owings Mills, Md. on May 19-22.

Last September, the Cowgirls finished sixth at Caves Valley during the Duramed Fall Preview. However, OSU did produce the event's individual medalist with Hedwall taking top honors in her first collegiate start.

OSU leads the league with its six Big 12 crowns. The Cowgirls first won the event in 1999 in Boulder, Colo. OSU then began its run of three consecutive championships with its victory in 2001 in Harvester, Iowa. After winning the 2002 tourney in Manhattan, Kan., the Cowgirls closed out Columbia, Mo. in 2003. OSU won the 2005 title in Austin, Texas before dour course, Karsten Creek, in Stillwater.

OSU has been equally successful in the individual Big 12 race as it has been in the team race, having six players claim medalist honors during the history of the event. In 1999, Maria Boddin became the first Cowgirl to win the event and regained the title in 2001. Emma Zackison grabbed top honors in 2002, while Anne Thurman followed two years later with back-to-back victories in 2004 and 2005. Joclyn Sweeney won the event last year to become the school's most recent champion.

OklaHoma State's women's golf team cruised to a 27-shot victory at the Big 12 Championship at Karsten Creek in Stillwater. The Cowgirls finished with a 46-over 912 team total after carding a 307 score in cold and windy conditions on the par-72, 6,210-yard layout. Texas A&M finished as the event's runner-up, coming in at 939, while Texas finished third at 958. The win gave OSU its league-leading sixth Big 12 title. The Cowgirls also won the event in 1999, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2005. The winning margin was the largest in tournament history, shattering the previous best by 18 strokes. The Cowgirls also became the first team to produce a 1-2-3 finish in the individual race with Jodynn Sweeney, Kean Kinnerud and Amanda Johnson finishing in that order.

The Cowgirls will enter the conference championship with an interesting mix of players. Three seniors with a combined eight starts in the event and two freshmen who will be making their Big 12 debuts. All three Cowgirl seniors have a pair of top-10 finishes in the event to their credit. Amanda Johnson has finished in the top 10 in both of her starts, finishing eighth as a sophomore before a third-place showing last year in Stillwater. Kanni Kinnerud followed up her eighth-place finish in 2007 with a runner-up last year at Karsten Creek. Pernilla Lindberg finished seventh as a freshman and fourth as a sophomore.

Cowgirls Tied For Third After Day One At UCF Challenge

Oklahoma State's women's golf team finished the first round of play on Sunday at the UCF Challenge tied for third place after carding a 286 at Red Tail Golf Club in Sorrento, Fla. The Cowgirls' 2-under total tied them with LSU and put them two strokes behind Arizona State for second place and four strokes off the pace of tournament leader UCLA.

The Cowgirls' 2-under total tied them with LSU and put them two strokes behind Arizona State for second place and four strokes off the pace of tournament leader UCLA.

Florida's Jessica Yadlock hit a 66 to grab a two-stroke lead over a trio of players that includes OSU freshman Caroline Hedwall.

Hedwall hit a 68 to come in tied for second with Nicole Smith of Tennessee and the Bruins' Glory Hong. The OSU rookie went out with a 2-under 36 on her front side and finished with birdies on three of her final seven holes to get in with her 4-under score.

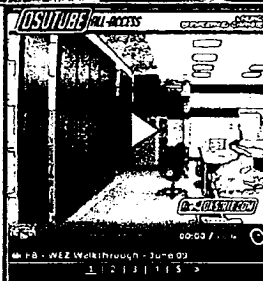

Joining Hedwall in the top five was senior Pernilla Lindberg, who came in with a 69. The All-American also posted a 34 on her front nine and got to 4-under for the day before closing with a bogey to finish with her 3-under.

Freshman Caroline Masson came in tied for 40th after posting a 74, while seniors Karin Kinnerud and Amanda Johnson both posted 75s and are tied for 53rd place.

The Cowgirls will resume play tomorrow morning at 10:30 a.m. (EST) and will be paired with UCLA and Arizona State.

Cowgirl Soccer Diary No. 9

Monday, May 25, 2009

May 25, 2009

Cherise Cowgirl Fan!

This will be the final blog from the United Kingdom as Cowgirl Soccer departs from Glasgow Airport today to return to Stillwater. It has been an amazing trip on to many levels -- cultural experience, tremendous soccer, and the opportunity to grow together as a team (especially when Casey found Jesus on the haunted tour).

We would all like to see a giant THANK YOU to our Coordinator, Martin Turner. His connections within the soccer world have helped us experience parts of this world that very few will ever get to see. His arrangements of hotels, food, and matches have been simply brilliant when you consider how busy and grumpy a group of girls can get after 10 days! If you have a chance, please visit his website www.soccerexperience.com to learn more about him.

After spending the night in Durham, England, we departed for Sunderland to play on their training ground in probably the hottest day in Northern England's history. After playing four games in the past six days, our legs were a wee bit heavy. Sunderland was able to capitalize and score in the first five minutes of the match. We battled back to keep the score 1 nil going into halftime.

After a rousing halftime talk, we came out fired up and ready to play. Katie Richmond was able to find Annika Ferguson for a goal in the 46th minute to knock out the score. Unfortunately, Sunderland was able to capitalize on the most dangerous five minutes in soccer (after a goal is scored) and make the score 2-1.

The two teams traded shots for the next few minutes until we were able to even the score at 2-2 with Katie Langdon crossing a beautiful ball to Annika Niemeyer. A victory was not to be had, however, as Sunderland was able to score the game winner just a few minutes later. All in all, it was not the result we wanted, but the game will provide us a great experience to call upon when we face adversity defending our Big 12 Championship this fall.

Following a brief shower -- where Bridget chose not to shave her legs AGAIN -- we were able to tour Sunderland's facility (in blue surgical booties) and then headed out to watch the men of Chelsea play Sunderland in a professional game in the Stadium of Light. Sunderland was facing relegation to a lower league and playing a collection of all stars in Chelsea. Sunderland fought valiantly, but ended up losing 3-2. However, the town rejoiced because they were able to stay in the first division due to other team's losses.

Soccer is not a game here, it's a way of life. The game may have been lost, but the spectators were thrilled that their squad maintains it's spot in the first tier of English Premier League Soccer.

Back on the bus, with a police escort (they thought we were Chelsea fans and who were we to argue?) and our outstanding and unimpaired bus driver/luggage engineer Jim, we ate a quick bucket of chicken from KFC and headed back to Glasgow.

This trip has been a real blessing, and we will all look back fondly on the opportunity to travel overseas. Thanks to all the Goal Club members, the OSU administration and coaches, and Martin for all the planning and consideration that went into this priceless trip.

-- Sierra Strawser

Cowgirls Continue Preseason With Intrasquad Scrimmage; Exhibition Match Next Up

Oklahoma State continued preparations for the 2008 soccer season with an intrasquad scrimmage Wednesday night at the Cowgirl Soccer Complex. The contest between the Orange and White squads, coached by OSU assistant coaches Tony Economopoulos and Kara Stillwater, Okla. A., Oklahoma State continued preparations for the 2008 soccer season with an intrasquad scrimmage Wednesday night at the Cowgirl Soccer Complex.

The contest between the Orange and White squads, coached by OSU assistant coaches Tony Economopoulos and Kara Stillwater, ended in a 1-1 tie after two 35-minute halves. Hancock's White team eventually prevailed by winning a sudden death penalty shootout.

Freshman Kydell Treadwell scored the game's first goal with 14:41 left in the first half to give the White team the lead, and the score remained 1-0 until Kasey Langdon recorded the equalizer for the Orange early in the second half.

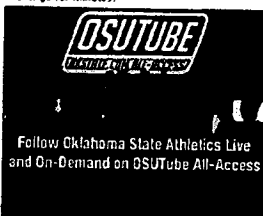

"I was pretty pleased with how we looked (in the scrimmage)," said OSU head coach Colin Carmichael. "Our fitness level was pretty good, and it was good to get a lot of girls out there in the mix and see what they could do."

"I was impressed with several of our young players, and our veterans looked pretty sharp for the most part."

Carmichael highlighted the efforts of several Cowgirls on the night, noting the strong attacking play of Treadwell and Langdon and the efforts of Jamie Markevich in the defensive midfield.

OSU continues preseason practice Friday before hosting TCU in an exhibition game Saturday at 6 p.m. at the Cowgirl Soccer Complex. Admission to Saturday's match is free.

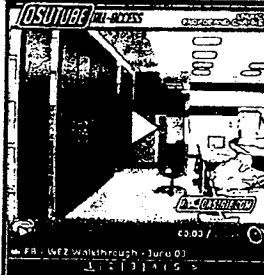

"TCU will present a good challenge for us and give us a chance to see how we've improved in the preseason and what we still need to work on," Carmichael said. "We've got a chance to have some good depth on our squad this year, and this game will also allow us to get a look at who our top 16, 17 players will be that will challenge for minutes."

STILLWATER, Okla. - The Oklahoma State women's tennis team will finish its regular season schedule when it hosts Texas Tech and Baylor.

Both matches are set to be played in Stillwater at the DeBois Tennis Complex. Friday's match against Texas Tech is scheduled for 2 p.m., while Sunday's match against Baylor is set to begin at 1 p.m.

If inclement weather moves into the Stillwater area as expected, the match against Texas Tech could be moved to the Michael G. Case Tennis Center in Tulsa at 3 p.m. on Friday.

About the Cowgirls

OSU is 11-10, 4-5 in Big 12 play. The Cowgirls are riding a three-match winning streak into the weekend, tying their longest streak of the season.

Freshman Krysta Khatikva boasts the best record for the Cowgirls in singles. She is 17-3 this spring, including an 8-1 mark in Big 12 play. She has played the majority of her matches at the Nos. 3 and 4 positions.

Joanna Krawczyszyn and Nataliya Shatkovskaya lead the Cowgirls in doubles. The duo is 11-8 this spring, including a 5-4 mark in Big 12 matches. They play at the No. 1 slot for the Cowgirls.

Scouting the Red Raiders

Texas Tech is 9-10, 4-4. The Red Raiders are coming off wins against Kansas State and Kansas.

Natalie Leitch leads Texas Tech at No. 4 singles. She is 5-3 this season in Big 12 matches, the best conference record on the team.

Samantha van der Drift and Madeline Gilbert boast the best league record for the Red Raiders at No. 1 doubles. They are tied at the top of the Big 12 No. 1 doubles standings.

Scouting the Bears

Baylor is 17-4, 8-0. They hold a one-match advantage in the league regular season standings. The Bears are ranked No. 5 in this week's Campbell/ITA College Tennis Rankings.

Leah Brocove is a leader for the Red Raiders, playing matches at the Nos. 1 and 2 positions. She is 5-0 in Big 12 matches this spring and boasts a No. 31 national ranking. Jelene Stanek is ranked No. 44 and Taylor Ormond is ranked No. 46 in singles for the Bears.

Brocove and Caitlin Gorceyghn are ranked No. 8 national in doubles. Nina Secor-Bocovic and Kasia Smasz boast a 4-0 record at No. 2 doubles in Big 12 matches this spring.

Senior Day for Tkachenko

Sunday's match against Baylor will mark the final home match for OSU's lone senior, Marina Tkachenko. She has a 7-10 record this spring in singles, including a 4-5 mark in league matches.

Tkachenko, a native of Kiev, Ukraine, will join her sister as Cowgirl tennis alumnas. Her older sister, Irina, played for OSU from 2004-2008.

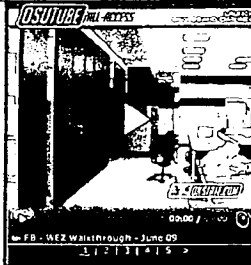

Last Time Out

The Cowgirls defeated Oral Roberts 7-0 in their previous time on the court April 14. It was the second time OSU had beaten the Golden Eagles this season.

In its previous conference match, OSU beat its Bedlam rival Oklahoma 4-1.

Big 12 Championships

OSU next match after this weekend will be at the Big 12 championships in Norman, Okla. Final seedings for the tournament bracket will be finalized this weekend in the final week of league play.

Cowgirls Successful During Day Two At Aggie Invitational

by [unreadable]

Oklahoma State tennis players Nataliya Shatkovskaya and JoAnne Karatiana advanced through the semifinals on Saturday at the Aggie Fall Invitational in Las Cruces, N.M., putting them in position to face each other in the finals. Shatkovskaya, a junior from Minsk, Belarus, won decisively in straight sets against New Mexico State's Isabela Kulaf, 6-2, 6-0. Teammate Karatiana convincingly defeated Isabela Kulaf, also of New Mexico State, 6-2, 6-2.

Story Photo

The duo continued their dominance in doubles play with an 8-5 victory over UTEP's Maronika Bloczynska and Megan Pitchard. Fellow doubles teammates Galina Semanova and Maryna Trachenko also won their doubles match against Arizona's tandem of Jana Hub and Anette Masschelein, 6-3, to advance to face their teammates in the finals.

In singles, Semanova advanced to the semifinals after an impressive quarterfinal win, but faced trouble against New Mexico State's Paulina Zuniga in the white bracket. After winning the first set 6-2, Semanova dropped the next two sets, 6-4, 6-3.

"The girls are performing well," OSU head coach Julius Lubicz-Majewski said. "I am very pleased because Arizona is a good tennis school, and we stepped up against them."

The OSU doubles teams will face each other in the finals match tomorrow. Although Shatkovskaya and Karatiana were slated to play each other in the singles final, they have decided to change opponents in order to face different opponents.

Oklahoma State's softball team advanced to the championship game of the NCAA Regional

Final State

California scored a run in the bottom of the fifth inning to break a 1-1 tie and the 14th-ranked Golden Bears defeated the Oklahoma State Cowgirls 2-1 here in the championship game of the NCAA Division I Softball Tallahassee Regional Sunday afternoon.

Oklahoma State took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first on an RBI single by junior catcher Sam Heinlein. Leadoff hitter Manoh Gearhart reached safely after being hit by a pitch and stole second. After advancing to third on a groundout by Allyssa Hohnlkn, Gearhart scored on Heinlein's base hit up the middle.

Cal evened the score at 1-1 in the bottom of the frame. Shannon Thomas, who reached on a bunt single and stole second, scored on a base hit through the left side of the infield.

After three scoreless innings, Bear Frani Echavarría hit a base hit with one out, one of three hits for the Col centerfielder in the game. Back to the top of the lineup, Jamie Reid hit a single as well, and Thomas loaded the bases with a bunt single. Echavarría scored on an RBI groundout by Valerie Arioto.

Oklahoma State went five innings without a base hit. Freshman Julie Ward hit a grounder to second base and reached on a throwing error by Thomas. One out later, freshman Chelsea Garcia reached first on a fielding error by shortstop Taylor Kelly. After pinch hitter Jessica Merg popped up to short, Gearhart hit a pop up to shallow centerfield. Senior Heather Kim, pinch running for Ward, was held up at third to load the bases. Katelyn Bright grounded out to shortstop to end the game.

Oklahoma State finishes the season with a 36-22 record. Cal is now 37-18 and will play Florida in the Super Regional in Gainesville, Fla.

Cowgirl catcher Sam Hamlin knocked in the only OSU run against Cal on Sunday.

Cowgirls Fall to 14th-ranked California, 2-0

Oklahoma State will play either Florida State or Mississippi State tonight at 7:30 p.m. ET

Final Story

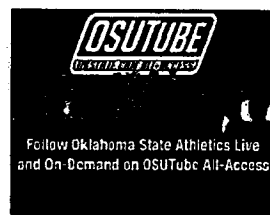

Tallahassee, Fla. — Oklahoma State gave up two runs in the top of the first and was never able to break California pitcher Marissa Drewrey as the 14th-ranked Golden Bears defeated the Cowgirls 2-0 in the winners' bracket game of the Tallahassee Regional here Saturday afternoon in the NCAA Division I Softball Championships. OSU will play the winner of the losers' bracket game between Florida State and Mississippi State at 7:30 p.m. ET.

Cal scored two runs in the top of the first off Cowgirl starter Sarah Odom (13-4). Janina Reid and Shannon Thomas led off the inning with a pair of seeing-eye singles that just squeaked through the infield. Valerie Arioto walked to lead the bases, and Gina Leomin pushed across the first run of the game with a bases-loaded walk. One out later, Taylor Kelly did the same, scoring Arioto. A couple of holder's choices ended the inning.

Drewrey threw a perfect game through the first three innings, striking out five. Cowgirl leadoff hitter reached in the fourth on a hit by pitch, but was quickly erased when Kristen Roebuck hit a fly ball while Gearhart was attempting to steal, and the speedster was picked off first base.

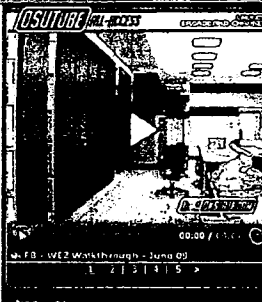

"I think she (Drewrey) did a great job today," said OSU head coach Rick Weiseman. "I think she was doing a good job of making some spots up and keeping us off balance. We just never could get on her. We got a couple hits, but when we got them on, we couldn't get them in today. I think with our pitchers we did the same thing."

Taylor Margen broke up Drewrey's no-hitter with a grounder through the left side of the infield. Senior Heather Kim pinch ran for Margen, and went to second on a sacrifice bunt by freshman Chelsea Carna. However, she would get no further as Kristen Roebuck and Gearhart struck out swinging to end the threat.

Cowgirl ace Anna Whidden relieved Odom with the bases loaded and two outs in the fourth. She forced Leomin to ground out, and struck out four while allowing just one hit over the final 3-1/3 innings.

Oklahoma State (35-21) will face the winner of the Florida State vs. Mississippi State game at approximately 7:30 p.m. ET tonight. The winner of that game will have to defeat Cal twice on Sunday to advance to the Super Regional.

COWGIRL SOCCER COMPLEX

The Cowgirl Soccer Complex, also known as the Cowgirl Corral, was brought about through a series of stages along with the conception of the women's soccer program in 1996.

The Corral came into existence in 1996-97 when a sand-based playing field was created. The Cowgirls play on one of the best playing surfaces in the country. The pitch is a Bermuda Hybrid T449 grass that is often used on the premiere golf courses throughout the nation. The field is also designed to have an outstanding drainage system, ensuring that the Cowgirls can play shortly after even torrential downpours.

The field measures 115 X 75 yards and is well lit to accommodate night games throughout the season. In 2001, the additions of 1,000 seat bleachers to the east side of the field were put in place to accommodate the growing crowds at the Corral. The addition of these bleachers and the growing tradition of Cowgirl Soccer have helped OSU obtain a number four ranking in the Big 12 in average season attendance.

Oklahoma State's soccer program has been giving fans reason to be excited since its inception in 1996 but now the program is giving current and prospective student-athletes a new reason to be enthusiastic about the future.

A new multi-million dollar complex is in the works at Oklahoma State and it promises to improve the game-day experience for Cowgirl Soccer players, fans, and coaches.

COWGIRL SOFTBALL STADIUM

Cowgirl Stadium is one of the newest in the Big 12 Conference and is the first of its kind in the Oklahoma State Softball stadium complex. The stadium has long been one of the premier softball programs in the country. Now, it has one of the best facilities as well.

The Cowgirls opened the stadium on their last game on April 20, 2013. A record crowd of 250 fans were already packed into the stadium when Lauren was there for the first game at the new facility.

Cowgirl Stadium was built at a cost of approximately $2 million on the same site as the old field, the home of the Cowgirls for more than 20 years. Construction on the facility started in June 2010, however, the plan had been in motion for much longer. When the Oklahoma State softball team was the Nebraska Huskers was moved to Hansen Softball Stadium in June 2010, it was determined that the money made from the game's sponsor, Western Star, would finance the facility.

The first phase of construction included new dugouts, a permanent concession stand, and bathroom facilities. Further additions were completed in 2012, including the coaches' offices, Cowgirl locker room, a press lounge and training room located behind the home dugout. In 2013, a state-of-the-art scoreboard, complete with a message board center, was installed in 2013.

Cowgirl Stadium is already one of the finest softball facilities in the country, with expansion plans already in the works to make it even better. The stadium includes 452 bleacher seats in orange and bleacher seating for 100. There is also a patio over the home team dugout where fans can stand and watch the game.

Cowboys Blast Missouri Southern 22-1

By [Name] [Date]

Baseball squad wins season opener in convincing fashion.

February 7, 1999

STILLWATER, Okla. — The Oklahoma State baseball team (1-0) opened its 1999 season in impressive fashion with a 22-1 victory over Missouri Southern Sunday afternoon at Sooner Stadium.

Senior shortstop Billy Gasperino was the offensive catalyst for the Cowboys, going 2-for-4 with two home runs and six RBIs. Also hitting home runs were right fielder Jarrod Matthews and designated hitter Travis Kato.

The Cowboys pitching staff limited the Lions to only one run while striking out 10. Sophomore pitcher Matt Smith (2-0) earned the win by hurling three innings of shutout ball while not allowing a hit. Senior pitcher James Galloway pitched three innings of two-hit ball and was followed by freshman Trever New who tossed the last three innings and gave up one run on four hits.

Oklahoma State scored in every inning but the seventh with a two-run third and four-run fourth which opened the contest up. Missouri Southern scored its lone run in the seventh off an RBI single by center fielder Tony Baker.

Other hitting stars for the Cowboys were junior outfielder Mike Smith who went 2-for-4 with two home runs and two RBIs, and senior pitcher Matt Smith who went 2-for-4 with two home runs and two RBIs.

With this win, the Cowboys move to 1-0 in 1999. The team has a record of 1-0 straight through its first game. The Cowboys will play their second game on Tuesday at 6:00 p.m. at Sooner Stadium.

Gasparino hits 14th homer of season

April 2, 1999

By [Name]

STILLWATER, Okla. — Oklahoma State scored 10 runs in the first three innings and never looked back as it beat Kansas State 13-4 in Big 12 action Friday night at Devon Stadium.

OSU improved to 22-6 overall and 11-4 in conference play while working for the sixth home win in 33 attempts. Kansas State fell to 13-16 overall and 6-14 in Big 12 play.

OSU pitcher Ryan Hooton pitched his 14th homer of the year, a solo shot, in the bottom of the first which gave the Cowboys an 1-0 lead. After Kansas State scored a pair of runs off a single by Ryan Hooton in the second, OSU exploded for four runs of its own in the bottom half of the inning, three coming off a leadoff walk, a home run and a sacrifice fly.

The Wildcats scored another run in the third to cut the lead to 5-2, but OSU put the game out of reach with a run in the top of the third to make the score 11-2. Two of the Cowboys runs in the third came off of RBI shots by Carlos Gasparino and Kevin Loefer.

OSU added two more runs off of solo homers by Josh Rickard in the sixth and Lance Smith in the eighth while Kansas State added two runs of its own in the seventh and eighth to make the score 13-4.

OSU starter Ryan Hooton gave up one earned run off of seven hits and tied a season high of nine strikeouts to record his 11th win in 14 starts while K-State starter Brandon Bell dropped to 4-5 with the loss.

The Cowboys and Wildcats will be back in action in the second game of the three-game series tomorrow at a game in Reynolds Stadium. Either Dan Matt Smith (5-1, 2.05 ERA) or other reliever to pitch for Oklahoma State will face Kansas State reliever Matt Leary (1-1, 2.05 ERA).

Cowboys Win Bizarre Game Over Sooners, 9-6

Afternoon includes grand slam, ejections, 11 pitchers, and more.

By [Name]

OREGON CITY, Ore. — Oregon State pulled down a 5-0 lead to defeat Arizona in a bizarre afternoon game of 11, 09 innings at the Ed Smith Stadium.

Both teams used more than 11 pitchers in going through 11 innings of play, with 11 pitchers used by the Sooners.

The Sooners scored three runs in the first off of Casey Proctor's 10th inning of the season and added two more runs in the second inning. The Sooners led 3-0.

Proctor allowed only two hits in five innings of play, but before the Cowboys reached the sixth, Billy Gray hit a grand slam to tie the game. In the seventh, Jay McLaughlin doubled down the right field line, scored a run, and hit the bases before Jay McLaughlin hit a grand slam to tie the game.

McLaughlin came in relief of Proctor after Chris Bassett's single hit right field and proceeded to hit a grand slam to tie the game.

In the eighth, the Sooners scored with Ryan Anderson's home run off the right field fence, a home run by Chris Bassett, and a home run by Chris Bassett. The game had the first ejection of the game as Jack Hildesley was ejected for arguing with the umpires.

The Sooners extended its lead to 9-0 in the eighth when Chris Bassett hit a double to left field, scoring Ryan Anderson from second base. Bassett was subsequently ejected for intentionally colliding with the Sooners' catcher.

The Sooners scored for the first time in the game in the ninth when Chris Bassett hit a double to left field, scoring Ryan Anderson from second base. The game had the first ejection of the game as Jack Hildesley was ejected for arguing with the umpires.

Proctor's record book shows the record at 2-2 after yielding two and two third innings of scoreless relief. Proctor was charged with the loss and dropped to 1-2 on the season.

Cowboys' record book shows the record at 12-4 in the 12th game while the Sooners dropped to 11-4 and 1-1 in the season.

The game will be the last game of the season for the Sooners, who will play at the Bank One Ballpark in Anaheim, Calif. Junior right-handed pitcher Chris Bassett is scheduled to pitch for the Sooners when freshman left-handed pitcher Michael Proctor will start for the Sooners.

Baseball takes five-game win streak into contest

March 25, 1999

HUMPHREY FIELD - Oregon State will carry a nine-game win streak into its contest against Harvard at 5 p.m. today at the historic site of the Humphrey Field.

The Cowboys will play three games in the four-day event against Harvard, Oregon State and New York Tech. The two OSU victories will come against Harvard today at 5 p.m. and New York Tech on Saturday at noon.

Harvard is 12-1 in four games in the four-day event against Oregon State and New York Tech. The Cowboys have led off the game by centerfielder John DeSena, who is batting at .437 clip with two RBIs. The Harvard pitching staff bats at .32 clip with right hander Andrew Duffel pacing the staff with a 1.00 ERA.

Oregon State is 12-1 heading into the week-end contest. The Cowboys won a 5-0 game last over the Fakes, the 1998 team, in a contest on Feb. 20, 1998. The two OSU wins came in the 1998 College World Series including a 2-0 decision in the championship game.

New York Tech is 10-10 as a Division I independent this season after playing in the Mid-Continent Conference in 1998. The team will play the diversity of these on Friday and Saturday before facing the Cowboys for the first time in a season on Sunday.

Slated to pitch for Oregon State this weekend will be senior Steve Francis (14-4, 3.00 ERA) on Friday and Matt Gresh (1-1, 6.75 ERA) on Saturday while right hander Jason Truitt (2-1, 7.00 ERA) will be on the mound on Sunday to close out the three-day.

Cowboys Defeat Rebels, 16-7, To Advance To Regional Final

4-14-07 (4)

With victory, Oklahoma State improves to 42-21 and will face top seed Tulane in Sunday's final.

May 26, 2007

NEW ORLEANS, La. — Oklahoma State advanced to the Super Regional semifinals by defeating Tulane 16-7 in the first round of the 2007 College World Series on Sunday.

Oklahoma State needed three innings to get going, improving to 42-21 and advancing to face host and top seed Tulane in the Super Regional semifinals on Sunday. The Cowboys can advance to next weekend's Super Regional final with a 3-1 record in the series.

Ole Miss led 5-4 heading into the top of the third, when Rhodes replaced OSU starter Ryan Miller. Rhodes gave up just one hit through his first four innings of work, but allowed just two earned runs and two walks while improving his win-loss record to 4-1 in the season.

With Rhodes shutting down the Rebels offense, Oklahoma State piled on the runs. The Cowboys had 17 hits and scored 15 runs in the first six innings and were never really threatened after getting up the runs in the fourth.

Jason Musick led the Oklahoma State offense with four hits in at bats. Knoxville's Scott was 2-for-3 with four hits, scored and three RBIs.

Ole Miss starter Gabe McCreary (4-5) took the loss for the Rebels, allowing six runs in four innings through the eighth of work.

Cowboys Outlast Ole Miss in Extra Innings

By Mike Helt

OKLAHOMA STATE ADVANCES TO THE SECOND ROUND OF THE NCAA REGIONAL WITH A 5-4 WIN.

May 25, 2001

By Mike Helt

NEW ORLEANS, La. Oklahoma State's baseball team used a game-winning hit from Paul Powell, and clutch pitching from Josh Christen to top over Mississippi in the first round of the NCAA regional this afternoon.

Powell's RBI double in the tenth inning proved to be the game winner, scoring Josh Scott and giving the Cowboys a 5-4 win.

Weaver picked up the win for Oklahoma State (41-20), throwing two innings and allowing only one run while striking out three Rebel batters. Weaver also pitched first base for an out at Josh Scott's double in the game to tie the tie-breaking three-run inning before returning to the mound to relieve the head coach of the team.

Weaver pitched the first two innings, giving up the second run of the game.

Mississippi hit 11 hits in the third and first with an unearned run in the first inning. Chad Stephens scored base on a batted ball, advanced on a wild pitch and passed first before scoring on an error by third baseman Josh Scott.

Oklahoma State suffered with three runs in the second inning. Josh Scott and Josh Scott scored on a sacrifice fly to tie the game 1-1. Josh Scott then tripped to left, and Josh Scott hit his 10th home run of the year, giving the Cowboys a 2-1 lead.

Ole Miss scored two more runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to tie the game at three runs apiece.

Cowboys Break Tournament Records, Pound Iowa State 17-4

By [Name] Staff Writer

Okahoma State will face Nebraska Saturday in the semifinals of the Big 12 tournament.

May 18, 2001

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — Oklahoma State's baseball team used a 10-run performance to break three Big 12 tournament records and defeat Iowa State tonight in a second round of the Big 12 baseball tournament at the Bricktown Ballpark.

The Cowboys shattered the record for most runs in a game, previously set at 12 by Oklahoma in 1997, by putting 16 hits on the plate in the first inning. The 10 runs Oklahoma State plated in the first inning and broke the record for most runs scored in a game, previously held by the Cowboys and Texas Tech, who each scored 10 runs in a game during 1991. The 16 runs also equaled the record for the first inning, setting a new record for the most runs scored in a first inning in Big 12 history, also set by Oklahoma State in 1997.

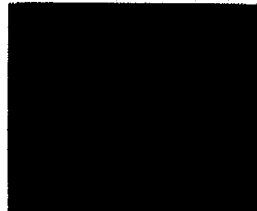

OSU's offense exploded for a double in the leadoff inning for the Cowboys, tying the Big 12 record and setting a new record for the first inning.

Iowa State answered with three runs in the bottom of the first inning on a pair of singles and a two-run homer by senior first baseman Dan Johnson.

In the third inning, Oklahoma State added three runs on two Iowa State errors, bringing the score to 13-3. The Cowboys also added two runs in the fourth on a pair of singles before OSU's bullpen came in to shut the southbound team out for the rest of the game.

OSU's offense kept the distance for Oklahoma State, scattering seven hits, across nine innings and a blowout only two runs in the bottom of the fourth. With the win, the Cowboys are 7-4 in the season.

Josh Long and junior pitcher Muzil led the Cowboys' offensive attack. Long was 4 for 6 with a double and six RBIs. Muzil, also 4 for 6, scored three runs for the Cowboys.

Okahoma State will face Nebraska Saturday in the semifinals of the Big 12 tournament. First pitch is set for 1 p.m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — Oklahoma State's basketball team swept Oklahoma for the first time since the 1980 championship game in the final game of the season today at the Bricktown Ballpark in Oklahoma City.

With the win, Oklahoma State finishes the regular season with a 16-10 overall record and a 11-14 record in Big 12 conference play. Oklahoma falls to 25-11 overall and 15-13 in the Big 12.

OSU's 19-12 record picked up the lead for the Cowboys, allowing only one earned run and striking out seven batters and 10 in seven innings.

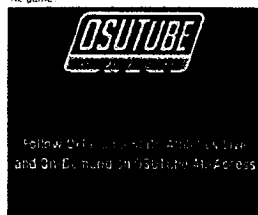

Oklahoma State took an early lead in the first inning as Jose Lugo walked and scored on 1st-inning RBI double. The Sooners tied the game in the next frame as Sergio D'Almeida's solo home run tied the field.

The Sooners then scored five runs in the third inning to take a 5-1 lead. Oklahoma put up a four-run rally in the 4th as Tony Davis' home run tied the game.

Jose Lugo and Tony Watson both hit home runs in the fifth inning for Oklahoma State, scoring three runs in the fifth. Scott also doubled in the sixth inning and added another run for the Cowboys as he scored on a single by Mark Adams.

The Sooners scored three runs in the seventh inning off reliever Lyle, tied to bring the score to 8-5. Lyle pitched three innings for right-center fielder Scott Adams and Lyle and the Cowboys entered the eighth 8-5.

OSU jumped on the Sooners offensively, going 5-for-4 with two RBIs. Boring and Watson were crucial for OSU in the game.

OSU wins fifth straight to improve to 13-3

March 10, 2001

By [Name]

STILLWATER, Okla.—Oklahoma State's baseball team exploded for championships on Saturday, sparking the Cowboys to a 28-2 rout over Princeton at Reynolds Stadium.

The top of the first inning saw Andrew Francis hit a home run to take an early 1-0 lead in the first inning. However, the Cowboys were countered with a run of their own in the bottom half of the frame to knot the score at one apiece.

The OSU offense busted out in the second, scoring seven runs off of Princeton's Ryan Ferguson. The Cowboys led 8-1 in the inning with a home run before Francis Kraft delivered the winning batted ball to end the game.

Francis Kraft led the day's home runs with a home run off of Princeton's pitcher, while Kraft forced a standard performance with four more scored with a single.

OSU's offense continued to explode in the third, scoring six runs to take an 14-1 lead in the inning's closing.

OSU ended the action in the third, putting up five runs of their own, highlighted by Francisco's home run. The OSU offense continued the day's 1-for-3 and scored three times.

The OSU offense added their biggest chunk in the fourth, raising the plate eight times and getting seven more runs from Francis Kraft and Brad Boudie.

OSU added four more runs in the fifth and another three in the sixth inning to close out the game's scoring. All told, 14 different Cowboys reached base and scored.

Cowboy starter Scott Baker remains perfect on the season, pitching five innings to move to 4-0 on the season. Baker pitched 21 innings and surrendered 11 earned runs in the loss.

The two teams will close out the series tomorrow with game time set for 11:00 a.m.

STILLWATER, Okla. Oklahoma State's baseball team completed a three-game sweep of Missouri on Monday, defeating the Tigers 5-4 in 10 innings at Allen P. Reynolds Stadium.

On the first pitch of the bottom of the 10th inning, OSU's Luke Scott took the lead. Missouri reliever Pete Johnson was the rightfielder for his last home game of the season, giving the Cowboys their fourth consecutive victory.

All the way, OSU's Mike Adams (10-1) worked well in the top of the 10th, striking out two and getting the win.

Missouri got on the board in the first when Tim Anderson singled to right field, scoring Taylor English.

The Cowboys countered with a run in the second when Mike Adams' first home run of the year (10-1) took the lead in the top of the second. Brian Smith doubled home Junior McLaughlin.

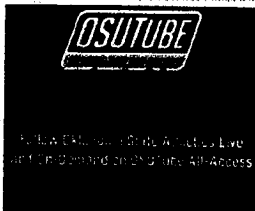

Adams extended the lead at two apiece in the top of the fifth and took the lead with two runs left.

OSU's Luke Scott and Mike Adams made double plays in the bottom half of the sixth to move the score to 4-1.

Both teams were held scoreless over the last three innings before Scott's blast in the extra inning.

Freshman pitcher Mike Adams picked up his first career win. The left-hander pitched all scoreless innings to move his record to 1-0.

OSU will return to the diamond next week when it travels to Lawrence to face the Kansas Jayhawks.

For me, it was the first time I had to play in the white with a single run before taking up as another team, just as the scenario. In the seventh, third base was full, after a double in the first, while we were Ryan Pardo in third in the 19th inning. I don't know if that was the first time I had to play in the white in the game with a run.

Abstract

The Cowboys, also composed of 12 females and 11 males (Fig. 12), participated in a 4th round in the third morning, scoring a pair of wins on their 10th trials by Neal Powell and Johnson Pears followed by a RB1 single courtesy of Luke Carr.

OSU extended the lead with a run in the fifth when Jose Lopez scored on a single to left, driving

The Jayhawks (2-1, 1-5) got on the board in the sixth inning as they starter Scott Baker hit his 100th run in six seasons of work.

Scott launched his third home-run four-parters in the 12th hole, seventh to give OSM a 4-1 lead.

OSU reliever Shane Hawk worked a day of scoreless innings before making his trouble in the ninth. The first-time left-hander surrendered two runs on two hits before stranding the tying run at first base to earn his second save of the season.

Walker picked up the win for the low-boys, throwing in 13 on the season, yet in late weight (2-4) took the loss for KO.

OSU will open a 12-game homestand on Thursday when they host Southeast Missouri State at 7 p.m.

Cowboys Storm St. John's 17-4

By Tim Miller

TENPE, Ariz. Oklahoma State opened the Bub Schaefer Memorial Tournament with a torrid offensive display in a 17-4 win over St. John's in baseball action Friday afternoon at Parkard Stadium. The 12-run rule was in effect and the game was called at 10:00 a.m.

The 12-run rule was in effect as the game was called after seven innings. OSU won its fourth straight game to improve to 4-0 in the regular season while the Red Storm dropped to 1-7.

St. John's pitcher jumped on the base first after catcher's error while OSU's pitcher had a two-run home off of Cowboys starter Nick McClellan in the first inning.

The Red Storm's first home run, a three-run homer, tied the game, but OSU's pitcher struck out three batters to end the inning.

The Red Storm had a pair of three-run homers in the second and another in the third to take a 4-2 lead. The Cowboys were out getting started in the fourth inning.

In at bats, OSU's pitcher struck out the first batter in the fourth inning with a bases-loaded single to tie the game at 4-4. Catcher Matt Cline then grounded a ball into the pitcher's mound to give OSU a 7-4 advantage.

Second baseman Sebastian Brown doubled off the inning with a two-run single, extending the lead to 9-4.

Pitcher Nick Cline then struck out the first batter in the fourth inning and shut down the St. John's offense, leading them to a 17-4 victory in the game.

Oklahoma State broke open the game with a single run in the fourth inning, leading by a bases clearing home by Mosette and a two-run home by Mosette.

Mosette finished the game with a bases clearing home while Mosette was a four-run home off of St. John's pitcher. Virginia had a pair of three-run homers in the game.

The Cowboys will face OSU in the second game of the tournament at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday. The Rebels defeated St. John's earlier in the day, 11-5, and will face OSU in the game on Saturday.

OSU's pitching staff is led by pitcher Nick McClellan (1-0, 1.00 ERA) and pitcher Nick Cline (1-0, 1.00 ERA).

OSU's batting line is led by pitcher Nick McClellan (1-0, 1.00 ERA) and pitcher Nick Cline (1-0, 1.00 ERA).

STILLWATER, Okla. — Oklahoma State's baseball squad held Gonzaga to five hits en route to picking up its second shutout of the season, a 4-0 victory over the Bulldogs on Tuesday night at Reynolds Stadium.

Junior Justin Hecceg moved to 2-0 on the season after shutting out the Gonzaga offense for 2 1/3 innings. The Bulldogs' offense struck out four batters and surrendered four hits before losing the game.

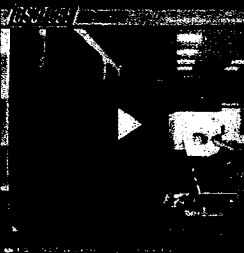

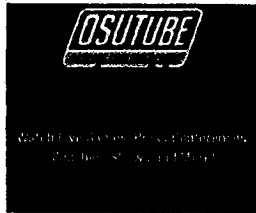

Errol Turner took over as pitcher and gave up three hits to fall to 0-1 on the season for Gonzaga (17-23).

The Cowboys (19-11) were paced offensively by first baseman Zach Agnew (2 for 4) and pitcher. The game moved to the third inning with three second-inning outs and a single to centerfield by senior Travis McQuinn and Mike Oling.

McQuinn broke the bases first run of the game in the second with a short single to move Josh Oling.

Oling led off the bottom of the seventh inning with a double off the back of the rightfield wall before giving way to junior Mike Oling, who advanced to third on a sacrifice bunt by Zach Agnew. Hecceg then threw a single over the head of the Bulldogs' infield and Hecceg threw a single to first base to end the game's final run.

The two teams will wrap up the series tomorrow at the Cowboys' ballpark with a game scheduled to start.

1928 - The NCAA sponsored its first national tournament in 1928. Head coach Ed Gallagher's Oklahoma A&M Aggies, after capturing seven AAU titles, took aim at the NCAA crown. The Aggies brought that first NCAA Championship back to Stillwater along with the beginnings of a dynasty. The first NCAA tournament saw A&M wrestlers Harold DeMarsh, Melvin Clodfelter, George Rule and Earl McCready win individual national titles. A&M also went 6-0 during the dual season, including wins over Oklahoma and Iowa State.

1929 - Ed Gallagher's Aggies won their second NCAA title in as many years, capturing four individual championships along the way. Heavyweight Earl McCready repeated, becoming the first wrestler to win two individual titles. Jack VanBebber and Conrad Caldwell each won their first of three titles as well, while George Bancroft won the 135-pound title. The Aggies logged their eighth undefeated, untied season under Gallagher, going 6-0.

1930 - Oklahoma A&M continued to dominate college wrestling in 1930, winning its third-straight title under the direction of head coach Ed Gallagher. The dual season saw the Aggies finish 8-0. At State College, Pa., A&M placed three atop the winners' stand at the NCAA Championships. Earl McCready captured his third NCAA title, while Jack VanBebber and Conrad Caldwell each won their second.

1931 - Winning its fourth-straight NCAA Wrestling Championship, Oklahoma A&M crowned four national champions and seven All-Americans. Jack VanBebber and Conrad Caldwell won their third NCAA title at 165 and 175, respectively, while Leroy McGuirk and 1932 Olympic Gold Medalist Bobby Pearce also won titles. A&M put together its 10th-straight undefeated season with a 7-0 record.

1933 - After a runner-up finish in 1932, Ed Gallagher's Oklahoma A&M Aggies tied with Iowa State for their fifth NCAA Championship in 1933. Led by NCAA tournament outstanding wrestler Alan Kelley, A&M and the Cyclones finished in a deadlock at the top. Rex Peery and Ross Flood captured national titles at 118 and 126 pounds, respectively. During the dual season, the Aggies went 8-0-1 with the lone tie coming to in-state rival Oklahoma, 12-12.

1934 - The Aggies remained atop the NCAA wrestling community in 1934. With legendary coach Ed Gallagher at the helm, Oklahoma A&M won its sixth NCAA Wrestling Championship in seven years of the tournament's history. Ross Flood, Rex Peery and Alan Kelley all won their second NCAA titles. The Aggies went 8-0 during the 1933-34 dual season, capped by a 27.5-to-4.5 win over Oklahoma.

1935 - Oklahoma A&M won its seventh NCAA title in 1935, outlasting arch-rival Oklahoma. The Aggies were led by Rex Peery and the tournament's outstanding wrestler Ross Flood, both three-time champs, as well as 1936 Olympic Gold Medalist Frank Lewis. A&M posted another impressive year, going undefeated with an 8-0 record.

1937 - With its dynasty well in place, Oklahoma A&M began a string of seven-consecutive NCAA Championships beginning in 1937. There was a three-year interruption due to World War II from 1943-45. The 1937 team placed four atop the winners' stand, including the outstanding wrestler, Stanley Henson. A&M also had seven-of-eight wrestlers earn All-America honors. The 1936-37 dual season saw the Aggies go 6-1-1. A&M's 18.5-7.5 win on March 5, 1937, over Central Oklahoma started a NCAA record streak of 76-straight dual wins.

1938 - The Oklahoma A&M Aggies crowned three NCAA Champions in 1938 en route to their ninth national title. Both Stanley Henson and Joe McDaniels won their second individual titles, while Dale Scriven won his first. McDaniels was named the tournament's outstanding wrestler. A&M went 9-0 during the dual season, including two wins over the Oklahoma Sooners.

1939 - Seniors Stanley Henson and Joe McDaniels teamed up one final time, both winning their third NCAA individual titles, while the Aggies won their tenth team title. Heavyweight John Harrell won his lone NCAA title and A&M had seven wrestlers earn All-America honors. The Aggies rolled to a 6-0 record with impressive wins over Big 10 powers Indiana and Illinois.

1940 - In what proved to be legendary head coach Ed Gallagher's last season, Oklahoma A&M won its 11th NCAA Championship in 13 years. Al Whitehurst was named the tournament's outstanding wrestler, and Vernon Logan won the 155-pound title as A&M saw six wrestlers earn All-America honors. The 1939-40 team went 10-0, giving Gallagher his 15th undefeated, untied season and a career record of 138-5-4.

1941 - Following Ed Gallagher's death in 1940 from pneumonia, Oklahoma A&M hired Art Griffith, the successful mentor at Tulsa Central High School. The Aggies continued their domination of college wrestling under Griffith, winning the 1941 NCAA Championship and going 6-0 during the dual season. Al Whitehurst repeated as an NCAA Champion at 136 pounds, while David Arndt, Earl VanBebber and Virgil Smith also captured titles.

1942 - In the final NCAA tournament before a three-year interruption due to World War II, Art Griffith's Oklahoma A&M Aggies won their sixth-straight NCAA title. Leading the way for the Aggies was the tournament's outstanding wrestler David Arndt, who won his second title in as many years at 145 pounds. Vernon Logan, Virgil Smith and Loyd Arms joined Arndt on the winners' podium as national champions. The Aggies posted another undefeated dual season, going 5-0.

1946 - Following World War II, the NCAA tournament returned, as did the Aggies. Oklahoma A&M hosted the tournament in 1946, winning its 14th NCAA Championship, and its seventh straight. David Arndt, back for his senior season, captured his third NCAA individual championship, this time at 136 pounds. George Dorsch also claimed a title, winning the 175-pound weight class. The Aggies only competed in dual matches twice in 1946, posting a 2-0 record.

1948 - Oklahoma A&M ruled the college wrestling world once again in 1948. The Aggies won their 15th NCAA Championship and crowned two individual champions. Jack St. Clair won the title at 155 pounds, while Richard Hutton won his second NCAA title at heavyweight. During the dual season, A&M went 7-0, including wins over Oklahoma, Iowa State and Nebraska.

1949 - For the 16th time in 19 NCAA Wrestling Championships, Oklahoma A&M brought the national title back to Stillwater. A&M's Charles Hetrick was named the tournament's outstanding wrestler, winning the 128-pound weight class. The Aggies' Jim Gregson also won the title at 175 pounds. In all, seven wrestlers earned All-America honors. A&M went 10-0 during the dual season, picking up seven shutouts along the way.

1954 - After a four-year dry spell, Oklahoma A&M returned in 1954 in dominating fashion. A&M blew through the dual season with a 7-0 record. At the NCAA tournament, the Aggies crowned three individual champions and six All-Americans. Leading the way for A&M were two-time champions Ned Blass and Myron Roderick. Blass won the 177-pound title, while Roderick stood atop the winners' stand at 137 pounds. Gene Nicks won the heavyweight crown, his first and only as an Aggie.

1955 - For the second-straight year, Oklahoma A&M was crowned the national champion. In 1955, the Aggies went 5-0-2 during the dual season, earning ties against Oklahoma and Iowa. Myron Roderick won his second NCAA crown, winning the 130-pound weight class, and Fred Davis won his first at 167 pounds. A&M also had a national runner-up and a third-place finisher on its way to the school's 18th national title.

1956 - Art Griffith ended his 13-year tenure at Oklahoma A&M in 1956 with his eighth NCAA Championship and the school's 19th overall. Griffith's Aggies went 4-0-2, tying Oklahoma twice. At the NCAA tournament, Myron Roderick led the way for A&M, winning his third NCAA title. Five other Aggies earned All-America honors, including four runner-up finishes.

1958 - Former Oklahoma A&M great Myron Roderick took over the reigns in 1957 and returned the Cowboys to the top in 1958. Two years removed from his third NCAA title as a wrestler, Roderick won his first as a coach. Eight Aggies earned All-America honors, a tie for the most ever. Leading the way were national champions Dick Beattie at 157 pounds and Duane Murty at 167 pounds. Roderick's team notched a 10-0-2 record during the dual season.

1959 - Oklahoma State continued its dynasty in 1959 with its 21st NCAA Championship. Led by national champions Dick Beattie and Ted Ellis, the Cowboys edged Iowa State for the title. Along with Beattie and Ellis, seven Pokes earned All-America honors. OSU also won its first Big Eight Championship after joining the league in 1958. The dual season saw the Cowboys post a 9-0-1 record with the tie coming against the Oklahoma Sooners.

1961 - Phil Kinyon and Bob Johnson turned in national-championship performances as Oklahoma State won its 22nd NCAA title. Eight Cowboys wrestled to All-America finishes, including runner-up performances from Masaaki Hatta, Bruce Campbell and Ted Ellis. Roderick's Pokes brought home their second Big Eight title and finished the dual season with an 8-0 record.

1962 - Oklahoma State's 23rd NCAA Championship came in 1962 under the direction of Myron Roderick. The Cowboys finished with seven All-Americans and three national champions. Masaaki Hatta, Ronnie Clinton and Bob Johnson won the 123, 167 and 177-pound weight classes, respectively. During the dual season, Oklahoma State went 12-0 and captured its third Big Eight Championship.

1964 - Once again, Oklahoma State ventured to the NCAA Championships, and for the 24th time, the Cowboys returned victorious. Led by national champions Yojiro Uetake and Joe James, along with six other All-Americans, the Pokes cruised past runner-up Oklahoma. The Cowboys also notched their fifth Big Eight Championship while posting a 10-0-1 record.

1966 - Yojiro Uetake wrapped up his career at Oklahoma State with his third NCAA title and a 58-0 record, while the Cowboys recorded their 25th NCAA Championship. Along with Uetake, Gene Davis and Bill Harlow won individual titles, as the Pokes finished with eight All-Americans. OSU also won its seventh Big Eight Championship, while recording a 13-1 dual mark.

1968 - The last of Myron Roderick's seven national championships came in 1968. Dwayne Keller was the lone Cowboy to capture an NCAA title, but six other Pokes finished in the top five as OSU won its 26th NCAA Championship. The Cowboys took home their eighth Big Eight title as they tied for first place with an 11-1 dual season record.

1971 - Tommy Chesbro, now at the helm of the Oklahoma State Cowboy wrestling team, led OSU to its 27th NCAA title. The Pokes sailed through the dual season with a 12-2 record and claimed its 10th Big Eight title in 14 years. Darrell Keller was named the NCAA tournament's outstanding wrestler, winning the 142-pound weight class, while Yoshiro Fujita captured the 126-pound title and Geoff Baum won at 177 pounds.

1989 - With Joe Seay as head coach, Oklahoma State won its 28th NCAA Championship in 1989. Led by Kendall Cross at 126 pounds and Chris Barnes at 177 pounds, OSU edged out Arizona State in reclaiming the title. In all, six Pokes earned All-America honors. The Cowboys also posted a dual record of 22-2 and won their 20th Big Eight title.

1990 - Oklahoma State repeated in 1990 behind national championship performances from freshmen Pat Smith and repeat champion Chris Barnes. Kendall Cross, Chris Owens, Chuck Barbee, Robby Hadden, Randy Couture and Kirk Mammen also earned All-America honors as the Cowboys captured their 29th NCAA Championship. OSU finished the season with an 18-1 dual record and its 21st Big Eight Championship.

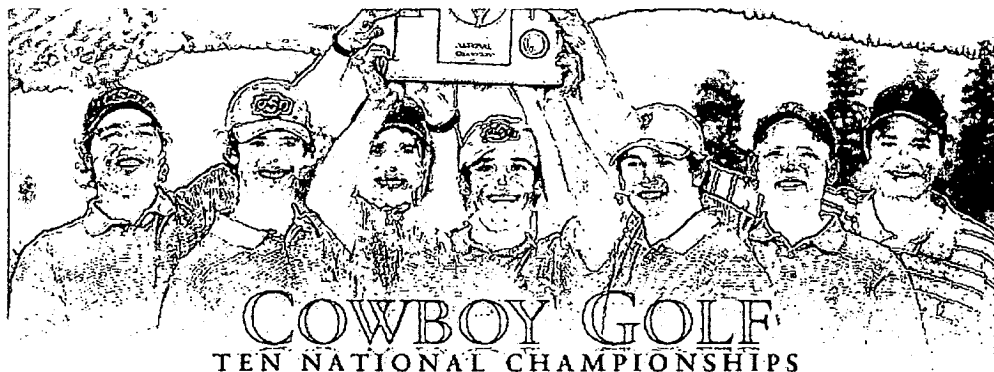

1994 - John Smith, in his second year at the helm of the Cowboy program, led OSU to its 30th NCAA Championship in 1994. Smith's younger brother Pat Smith became the first wrestler to ever win four NCAA Individual Championships, while Alan Fried and Mark Branch both recorded their first NCAA titles. In all, six Cowboys earned All-America honors. During the dual season, OSU posted a 13-1 record and notched its 23rd Big Eight title.

2003 - Big 12 Coach of the Year John Smith led the Cowboys to their 31st team title in 2003. Oklahoma State won in convincing fashion by scoring 143 team points, 38.5 points ahead of second-place Minnesota. The Cowboys' 143 points scored were the most ever scored by an OSU team. Johnny Thompson and Jake Rosholt also captured individual titles for the Pokes. The Cowboys ended the year as National Champions, Big 12 Champions, and owning a perfect 17-0 dual record.

2004 - Oklahoma State successfully defended its national championship winning its 32nd trophy in school history. The Cowboys had one national champion in Chris Pendleton and two runner-up finishes by Zack Esposito and Tyrone Lewis. OSU beat second-place Iowa by 41.5 points.

2005 - Oklahoma State blistered the field defeating runner-up Michigan by a school record margin of 70 points. The Cowboys also set a school mark by scoring 153 points, and they tied an NCAA mark of five individual champions. OSU wrestlers posted an unbelievable record of 38-9 during the NCAA Championships. The Cowboys won everything winning the National Duals and Big 12 Championship on their way to a 21-0 record.

2006 - The Cowboys suffered a couple of setbacks during the 2006 season to rival Minnesota. Oklahoma State was even considered a slight underdog to the Gophers entering the NCAA Championships. OSU quickly put that thought to rest leading from start to finish. The Cowboys pinned 11 opponents as they racked up 122.5 points to Minnesota's 84.

1963 - Oklahoma State's first national golf title came at the Wichita Country Club as the Cowboys claimed a one-stroke victory over Houston in the two-round event. George Hixon led OSU individually, finishing one shot out of first place after posting a first-round 67 to lead the tournament after one day. The championship was sandwiched between a pair of runner-up finishes in 1962 and 1964 for former coaching legend Labron Harris, Sr.

1976 - The first national crown for Mike Holder as well as the second for the OSU golf program came at Albuquerque, New Mexico, in 1976. The Cowboys notched a seven-shot triumph over Brigham Young. A pair of Cowboys, Lindy Miller and Jaime Gonzalez, tied for 10th place after finishing the four-round tournament at two-over-par.

1978 - OSU's third golf title came in dominating fashion as the Cowboys outdistanced Georgia by 17 strokes to lay claim to the crown. Eugene, Oregon, was the site of Mike Holder's second title in three years. David Edwards fueled the OSU charge, taking medalist honors by a two-stroke margin. All five Cowboys that competed in the event finished in the top 25 individually.

1980 - The Cowboys grabbed their fourth NCAA Championship and their third in five years at the famed Scarlet Course in Columbus, Ohio. OSU entered the final round in a three-way tie with Brigham Young and Ohio State, before carding an even-par 288 on the final day for a four-shot win ahead of BYU. Individually, Rafael Alarcon led the Cowboys, finishing two strokes out of first place and in sole possession of third place.

1983 - The 1983 NCAA Championship took the Cowboys to Fresno, Calif., where OSU defeated Texas by seven strokes for the school's fifth title. Freshman Scott Verplank finished tied for first individually through 72 holes after firing a one-under-par total of 287 but lost in a four-way playoff and finished the tournament tied for second.

1987 - OSU's 1987 NCAA title came on familiar territory, the Scarlet Course in Columbus, Ohio where the Cowboys won the championship in 1983. OSU's sixth championship, a 16-stroke win over Wake Forest, was bolstered by a trio of top-10 finishes. Brian Watts earned medalist honors after firing a 66 on the final day. Michael Bradley and Tim Fleming had outstanding tournaments as well, finishing fourth and tied for sixth, respectively.

1991 - At the 1991 NCAA Championship, OSU battled rough, windy conditions at Poppy Hills Country Club in Pebble Beach, California, during the first round. The Cowboys held the lead after two rounds before seeing North Carolina take a third-round lead. However, OSU erased UNC's three-shot margin, including two strokes over the final nine holes, to earn the school's seventh team title. For the 21st time in 22 years, the Cowboys produced at least one top-10 finisher as Craig Hainline tied for fourth and Scott De Serrano tied for 10th.

1995 - OSU's golf team made history en route to winning the 1995 NCAA title as the Cowboys won the first playoff in NCAA Championship history over Stanford on a thrilling 73rd hole of golf. OSU produced a miraculous comeback in what appeared to be a two-team race between Stanford and Texas. The Cowboys made up a seven-stroke deficit late in the fourth round with five birdies in the last three holes to force the playoff. OSU won the playoff despite being a man down as Lelf Westerberg, who had left for the airport to catch a plane to compete in the British Amateur, did not participate in the extra hole. Chris Tidland finished as the event's runner-up, finishing one stroke out of first place.

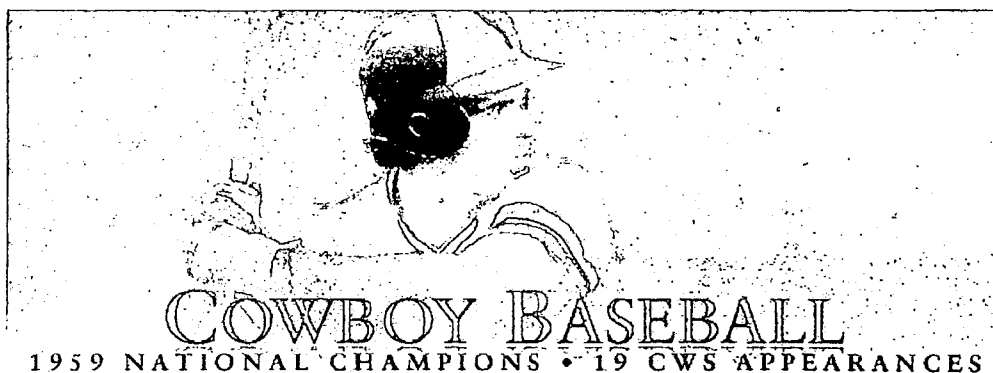

2000 - The Cowboys entered the 2000 NCAA Championship's final round with a three-stroke advantage over Texas, but needed seven birdies over the final five holes to pull even with hard-charging Georgia Tech to force a playoff. Charles Howell blistered the Grand National Golf Club in Opelika, Alabama, breaking the NCAA scoring mark by six strokes with a 23-under-par performance. Howell ran away with medalist honors, outdistancing the field by eight strokes to become OSU's seventh individual NCAA winner.

2006 - The Cowboys made their first season under head coach Mike McGraw a memorable one, claiming their 10th NCAA title at Crosswater Golf Club in Sunriver, Oregon. Sitting in seventh place at the tournament's halfway point, the Cowboys rallied during the third round to get back into contention. Battling adverse conditions, OSU carded an even-par 288 round to move into second place with 18 holes remaining. The Cowboys were able to fend off hard-charging Florida on the final day with a 5-under 283 team score to finish three shots clear of the Gators. Jonathan Moore became just the seventh freshman to win the NCAA title, posting a four-shot victory, while Pablo Martin turned in a fifth-place showing to mark OSU's first time with two players in the top five at the national tournament since 1987.

1945 - Oklahoma A&M's first appearance in the NCAA Tournament proved to be a successful one as the Aggies claimed the national title, defeating Utah and Arkansas en route to the championship game against New York University. A&M crushed Utah, 62-37, and Arkansas, 68-41, in the NCAA Regional at Kansas City to advance to the title game against New York. There, the Aggies claimed a 49-45 victory for its first of two-consecutive national titles. Bob Kurland led A&M with 22 points in the championship game.

1946 - The 1946 Oklahoma A&M team was one for the record books. The Aggies produced the best record in school history, going 31-2, and A&M became the first school to win back-to-back NCAA basketball titles. All five of OSU's starters were named to the All-Missouri Valley Conference first team. A&M closed the season with 15-straight wins and the national title. In the championship game, the Aggies edged North Carolina, 43-40, for their second-straight championship.

1959 - Oklahoma State surprised the collegiate baseball community by winning the 1959 NCAA Championship. Led by skipper Toby Greene, the Pokes finished with a 27-5 record. OSU captured the regular-season Big Eight Championship with a 17-3 mark. OSU went 5-1 in Omaha, including a 5-3 win over Arizona in the championship game of the College World Series. The Cowboys were led on the mound by a starting rotation of Roy Peterson, Joel Horlen and Dick Soergel. At the plate, Jim Dobson turned in an outstanding season, finishing second on the team in home runs and RBIs, and winning the Most Valuable Player award at the College World Series. Centerfielder Ben Bancroft led OSU in home runs and RBIs, while hitting .314.

1954 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

1954 - Head coach Ralph Higgins led Oklahoma A&M to the 1954 NCAA Men's Cross Country Championship. The Aggies finished the season with an 8-0 record. OSU was untouchable by season's end, winning the national championship in East Lansing, Mich. A&M landed three runners in the top 10 with all five scorers in the top 23 finishers. The Aggies' winning total of 61 points outdistanced second-place Syracuse by 57 points.

COWGIRL EQUESTRIAN

2000 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

2000 - In its first year of full competition, OSU's newly formed equestrian team captured its first national championship at the IHSA National show. Casie Cavanaugh won the team beginning western horsemanship class and Kristen Thomas won the team advanced western horsemanship class to lead OSU to the western national championship. In the individual classes, Meghan Walentine was the champion in advanced western horsemanship.

EXHIBIT C TO THE DECLARATION OF KURTIS MASON

THE GAME TODAY

By FRED DIGBY

Sports Editor, New Orleans Item

OKLAHOMA A. and M. and St. Mary's College make their first appearance in the Sugar Bowl Classic, and likewise meet for the first time in the history of football at their institutions, in the game today—twelfth in the series of post season events inaugurated on January 1, 1934.

The Cowboys of Oklahoma A. and M. are Missouri Valley Conference champions, and unbeaten in collegiate competition in two seasons.

The Gaels of St. Mary's were hailed by Los Angeles and San Francisco experts as the top-flight team on the Pacific Coast, and triumphed over Southern Cal, defending Coast conference champion by a score of 26 to 0.

Each squad boasts an All-American halfback. Bob Fenimore is the toast of Oklahomans and on the records, the greatest ground gainer in the nation in 1935. Herman Wedemeyer is St. Mary's ace, and No. 1 in the nation in forward passing and punting.

Experts who have seen these two halfbacks, and their teams, in action are unanimous in the view they have more color than a rainbow, and will provide such a thrilling contest as will surpass even the most exciting Sugar Bowl events.

Frank Leahy, coach of the Notre Dame football team, is one of the experts who called St. Mary's "most colorful" and predicts you will be thrilled as much by "Spike" Corderio as by Wedemeyer, so keep an eye on St. Mary's right halfback.

Wedemeyer, Corderio and Ed Ryan, left end, were chosen on the United Press All-Pacific Coast football team. Dennis O'Connor, the Gaels' quarterback was listed on the second team.

O'Connor is the "coach on the field" and enjoys the complete confidence of Jim Phelan, St. Mary's capable coach.

The Cowboys from Stillwater are on the big side in the line and on the swift side in the backfield.

All four of the starting Oklahoma backs are track men able to step 100 yards in or close to 9.7 seconds.

Fenimore finished the season with a total offense mark of 1,641 yards on 203 plays in eight games. That's several hundred yards ahead of Harry Gilmer, Alabama ace and Glenn Davis, the Army speedster. More ground than many teams gain in a season.

In rushing alone Fenimore gained 1048 yards in eight games.

Oklahoma A. and M. scored 252 points in eight games and allowed 63 points. St. Mary's scored 269, allowed 52 in the same number of contests.

The coaches of the teams also make their bow to football fans in New Orleans in this classic.

Jim Phelan, of St. Mary's is a former Notre Dame quarterback and captain, and prior to taking charge of the Gaels won championships at Purdue, Missouri, and Washington.

Jim Lookabaugh was a star at Oklahoma A. and M. in his undergraduate days, coached high school football for several seasons and then was called by his Alma Mater in 1939.

The choice was a happy one for under Lookabaugh, the Cowboys have won national fame, two championships and one bowl game.

From the records it would appear safe to predict both teams will score and be scored upon in the game today. And that this will be one of the best free-for-all football parties yet offered in the Sugar Bowl.

"The Official Watch for Timing Today's Game is Longines—The World's Most Honored Watch"

Today's final home game for Oklahoma State this season brings colorful Wyoming to Lewis field for the third meeting of these two state universities who use the nickname "Cowboys."

So it's the Laramie Cowboys and the Stillwater Cowpokes going at it today. Coach Cliff Speegle's Oklahoma Cowboys have one more game on Oklahoma soil, of course, that being the battle in Norman November 30 between University of Oklahoma and the Pokes.

Under a new coach this year, University of Wyoming has continued its fine football with Bob Devaney at the helm. The Laramie Cowpokes, through their Utah game, had dropped but one football game in two seasons of play. They long have been regarded as the Skyline's most frequent championship contender and most colorful football team.

Seniors of Oklahoma State, playing their final game on Lewis field today, are Everett Wood, Bamsdall; Johnny Jacob, Texarkana; Tommy Fine, Lindsay; Bob Greenhaw, Duncan; H. J. Green, Wakita; Bob Vanlandingham, Duncan; Joe Holt, Tyler; Mc Odell, Watonga; Don Garner, Stillwater, and Jon Evans, Bartlesville.

Each of these has played a vital role in Oklahoma State football, battling to bring the sport to its present plane at OSU. Whether starter or sub, they've played their part. They have given a lot to the game and, in turn, received a lot from the game. They'll move on with the happy memory of achievement. Oklahoma State is proud of them and wishes them the best of luck.

The Wyoming game brings memories of 1953, when the Laramie Cowpokes played a memorable game here. Bill Breddo stormed 85 yards for a touchdown, then fired a touchdown pass to Kenny McCullough 30 seconds before the half ended to give OSU a 13-0 lead. Like a bomb, Joe Mastrogiovanni, of Wyoming, brought the Laramies back to life, hitting Chick Magagna for a 90-yard touchdown pass and run as the first half time ran out and it was 13-7 at intermission.

A blocked punt in the third, followed by Mastrogiovanni's touchdown burst, and Wyoming led 14-13. Then came a crushing drive of 72 yards in 12 plays, featuring the great Earl Lunsford and Bobby Greene, with Dorsey Gibson scoring, and Oklahoma State was back on top 20-14.

TODAY'S GAME

With its yard-munching ground game in full gear, Oklahoma comes into Lewis Stadium today to try to wear down coach Jimmy Johnson's injury-troubled but surprising Cowboys.

The Sooners need today's game to keep pace with co-leader Nebraska as the two teams march toward their Big Eight Conference showdown later this month. Heisman trophy winner, Billy Sims, has already tallied 16 touchdowns and rookie rocket, Stanley Wilson, has picked up enough experience to compliment Sims with powerful fullback shots between the tackles.

OU has a top heavy series advantage (55-12-6) including a "take no prisoners" 62-7 shellacking of the Cowpokes in Norman last year.

Despite 10 starters out for the season and three more questionable for today's game, Johnson's first OSU football edition is easily the unexpected happening in the Big-8 this autumn. Ticketed for last place by pre-season pollsters, the Pokes surprisingly but deservedly own sole possession of third place in the conference race.

Contrary to OU's schedule, the Cowboys will have faced all the pre-season favorites after today but take the treacherous trip to Boulder next week. On the other hand, the Sooners have been tuning up their arsenal of weapons with the comforting thought they don't face their most serious challengers until Missouri (Nov. 17) and Nebraska (Nov. 24).

Regardless this is the first varsity chapter of the great rivalry between two of the league's athletic giants. We hope the game lives up to your expectations and your enjoyment is exceeded only by the good sportsmanship displayed by fans of both persuasions.

A pair of rapidly rebuilding football powers--Baylor of the Southwest conference and Oklahoma State of the Big Eight--are matched in a crucial mid-season struggle to highlight the 1972 homecoming festivities at OSU.

Both are equipped to have a voice in their respective conference grid races and each team has already ambushed an unsuspecting favorite. Baylor, under new coach Grant Teaff, pushed highly regarded Georgia before upending Missouri (27-0) and Miami (10-3).

Despite a courageous but disappointing loss at Virginia Tech last week, Dave Smith's Cowboys stand 3-2 on the season and have the opportunity to take a great step toward a victorious campaign if they can bag the rugged Bears from Waco.

Baylor comes to Lewis Stadium with a truly great defensive end in senior Roger Goree. All he did last week against Arkansas was make 18 tackles and block two punts. Goree isn't the only standout in the Baylor cast. Massive middle guard Millard Neely (6-2, 271) missed the Arkansas game with a knee injury but expects to make the trip to Stillwater. He has teamed with Goree and freshman tackle sensation Joe Johnston to make the Bear defensive line awesomely strong.

Offensively, the Bears call on powerful junior college transfer Gary Lacy for rushing (74 carries averaging 4.3 yards per try) and receiving (10 catches netting 64 yards). The sudden touchdown threat is split end Charley Dancer, another juco product. Dancer has hauled in 16 passes for 223 yards this year, including a dazzling end zone grab against Miami that won the game.

The Cowboy offense expects to be in a healthier and faster gear with quarterback Brent Blackman improved from an ankle injury which hobbled him against Tech. Despite his subpar physical condition against Tech, Blackman compensated with his best passing performance of the year. Rookie running backs Fountain Smith and George Palmer tossed in 244 rushing yards between them to help keep OSU one of the nation's collegiate ground gaining leaders.

Baylor has the big end of the rivalry (check box on this page) but this is the first time in 30 years the series has been revived.

It's the first time in 13 years the Cowpokes have gone outside of the powerful Big-8 for a homecoming opponent. But, Baylor fits in with the tough opponents selected to play before the Ole Grads. The first official homecoming tilt was in 1921, when OSU trimmed Washburn, 13-0. Since, the Pokes stand 22-24-5 against homecoming rivals, a record which might favor OSU more if such league powers as Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri and ole nemesis Kansas hadn't occupied the homecoming card since 1960.

This is the first meeting in 30 years between Baylor and OSU, the Bears owning a 9-1 series edge over the Cowboys. OSU won the opener in Stillwater when the two schools were members of the Southwest conference. Five of the previous meetings have been in Stillwater, three in Waco and one each in Wichita Falls, Tex., and Oklahoma City. The last game, in 1942, was played in Oklahoma City, the Bears staving off a furious but futile Cowboy rally.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY

The Goody Goody Two Shoes Boys are on their way.

It's Jack Armstrong, Pat Boone, apple pie, yes ma'm, no ma'm. Mr. Clean, gosh golly-gee and gosh darn, the Good Book and Emily Post.

Brigham Young University's halo-hovered football players are the Goody Goody Two Shoes Boys.

However, mind your Ps and Qs or they'll knock you on your rear, dear.

Just ask Colorado State or Arizona or Arizona State or San Diego State or the other five teams the Cougars politely chewed enroute to a 9-2 season.

Throw in a share of the Western Athletic Conference title (6-1, tie with Wyoming) and... da da da da... a Tangerine Bowl date against Oklahoma State.

The Goody Goody Two Shoes image stems from the fact that Brigham Young is Mormon-owned and 70 per cent of the Cougar team is Mormon. Each of the 25,000 students enrolled in the Provo, Utah school must sign a Code of Honor contract.

With today's liberal ways, you'd think that Coach LaVell Edwards, an Ozzie and Harriet figure, would have a devil of a time recruiting any top-notch prospects.

Not so, says LaVell.

"Oh, no, I think it's a definite advantage for us to be predominately Mormon. There are a lot of good Mormon players," says Edwards. "And you don't have to be of the religion to be on the team."

"You must however conform to the contract. That's the way we like it here. And after the season we had this year, I don't think anyone can say it has hurt us.

"True, we don't get the superstars but we get the kids who want to come and play, who want to come and get an education."

Edwards, a low-key, calm 46-year-old in his fifth season, has compiled the best record (34-21-1) in the Cougars' 51-year history.

"One of the main reasons many people aren't too familiar with Brigham Young football is that we don't have the tradition the Oklahomas, the Ohio States and the Michigans do," he said.

Edwards took over in 1972 for Tom Hudspeth, now head coach of the Detroit Lions. That season he went 7-4, good for second in the WAC. After a 5-6 year in 1973, Edwards' squad went 7-4-1 and tied for the WAC title.

Last season the Cougars dropped their first three games but won six of their last eight to finish 6-5. They captured the Behive Boot, symbolic of supremacy in Utah football.

An inconsistent offense and fumbles plagued the effort until a sophomore quarterback took over in the fourth game. Gifford Nielson, the straightest of straight arrows, completed 10 of 12 passes for a conference single game record and the Cougars fought back to beat New Mexico. Nielsen started the rest of the season and ended up passing for 1,471 yards and 12 TDs.

Nielson's leadership carried over to this season, the Cougars' finest. An all-around athlete, who played two years on the Cougar basketball team, the 22-year old is the local boy who made good.

Nielson completed 207 of 372 attempts (.556) and threw for 3,192 yards and 29 touchdowns this season. The lanky

A transplanted beach-comber is partially responsible for Oklahoma State's triumphant gallop into the Tangerine Bowl.

In addition to becoming a surprise starter as a Cowboy freshman, 6'5", 225-pound weakside linebacker John Corker of Miami South High School helped team members up make up their minds about accepting the bowl bid.

Corker, who won't be 18 until Dec. 29, stood up at a team meeting after the Cowboys rode down Iowa State, 42-21, to clinch a share of the Big Eight crown. He told his mates Orlando was the place to go. At the time (Sunday morning, Nov. 21), the Cowboys were considering feelers from the T-Bowl and the Astro-Blue-bonnet Bowl.

Known as "Big Bird" by the Cowboys because of his long legs and big, floppy arms, Corker did a corking good job as a salesman.

News and Notes

The Bowl Season

The Oklahoma State Cowboys will make the 19th bowl appearance in their history on Dec. 30 when they head to San Diego to face the Oregon Ducks in the 31st annual Pacific Life Holiday Bowl. The game will begin at 7 p.m. central time (5 p.m. Pacific) at Qualcomm Stadium and will be televised nationally by ESPN.

The Cowboys Quickly

Oklahoma State will arrive in San Diego with a 9-3 record, including a 5-3 mark in the brutal south division of the Big 12 Conference. OSU has not lost to a team ranked below No. 3 in the Associated Press poll this season. OSU is 1-3 vs. the AP top five in 2008. The Cowboys have reached nine wins for just the eighth time in school history and for the first time since the 2003 Cotton Bowl team went 9-4. Under fourth-year head coach Mike Gundy, OSU's last four Big 12 records have been 1-7, 3-5, 4-4 and finally 5-3 in 2008. OSU has five conference wins for just the ninth time ever.

Searching For 10

Oklahoma State will be gunning for the fourth 10-win season in its history when the Cowboys battle the Ducks. The first 10-win season came in 1984. Cowboy head coach Mike Gundy quarterbacked OSU's other two 10-win seasons in 1987 and 1988. The 1988 season culminated with a Holiday Bowl win.

Off The Field

Oklahoma State reached several attendance landmarks in 2008. The Cowboys drew their largest crowd ever with 52,463 fans on hand for the 55-24 win over Troy. For the first time ever, OSU drew more than 50,000 fans in three straight home games. And Oklahoma State set a new single-season attendance record with an average of 48,261 per home game.

COWBOY FOOTBALL

Tube Talk

The bowl game will mark Oklahoma State's ninth television appearance of the season. To date, OSU has made an appearance on FSN, Fox College Sports, ESPN2 and five appearances on ABC (the final five games of the regular season). The Cowboys will be appearing on ESPN for the first time since its Independence Bowl win over Alabama on Dec. 28, 2006. OSU has appeared on ESPN2 three times since that bowl win. Calling the game for ESPN will be Terry Gannon and David Norrie.

From OSU To The Murph

Qualcomm Stadium, home of the Pacific Life Holiday Bowl, was formerly known as Jack Murphy Stadium, or "The Murph" to locals. Jack Murphy is an Oklahoma native. A former columnist for the San Diego Union, the Tulsa native is credited for using the power of the pen to guide San Diego city leaders toward the construction of a stadium in Mission Valley. The stadium was originally called San Diego Stadium when it opened in 1967. It was re-named Jack Murphy Stadium in 1981 before the name was changed to Qualcomm Stadium in 1997. A statue of Murphy and his dog is located at the entrance of the San Diego Trolley stop at Qualcomm Stadium. OSU alum, Ted Leitner, is also a San Diego media personality. He has worn many hats in San Diego, including television sports director, radio talk show host and play-by-play voice of the San Diego Chargers, San Diego Padres and San Diego State Aztecs.

The Bowl Numbers

Oklahoma State is 12-6 all-time in bowl games. That 667 winning percentage is the third best among FBS schools with more than 15 bowl appearances. It is the top bowl record in the Big 12 Conference. The Cowboys are appearing in a bowl game for a third straight season for just the third time. Oklahoma State first made three straight postseason appearances in 1983 (Bluebonnet), 1984 (Gator) and 1985 (Gator), and made it three in a row again in 2002 (Houston), 2003 (Cotton) and 2004 (Alamo). The latest trifecta is a combination of the Independence (2006), Insight (2007) and Holiday (2008) bowls.

Making History

The Cowboys are already guaranteed to make a little history. Oklahoma State will be appearing in a bowl game for the sixth time in seven seasons. OSU had never accomplished that feat. A second piece of history would be made with a victory. Oklahoma State has never won a bowl game in three straight seasons, but a victory over the Ducks would complete the task.

A Holiday Tradition

Oklahoma State has one previous appearance in the Holiday Bowl. It came exactly 20 years prior to the 2008 Holiday Bowl on Dec. 30, 1988. In that game, the Cowboys were 62-14 winners over WAC champion Wyoming. Oklahoma State used a 45-point second half and 698 yards of total offense to take the suspense out of the contest. In a bowl game filled with offensive tradition, OSU's total offense mark remains the best in the game's history, its 45 points in a half is still a Holiday Bowl record, and the point total is second all time.

In Record Numbers

Oklahoma State's one appearance in the Holiday Bowl resulted in a record performance. In fact, 13 of OSU's team and individual marks from 1988 remain in the bowl's record book, including:

Team Records

Total Offense	698
Third-Down Efficiency	81.8 pct (9-of-11)
Average Per Play	8.7 yards per play
Highest Completion Pct	82.8 pct (24 of-29)

Most Receiving Yards	163, Hart Lee Dykes

Stop Me If You've Heard This

The last time Oklahoma State visited the Holiday Bowl the Cowboys had in tow a first-team All-America receiver in Hart Lee Dykes, a first-team All-America running back in Barry Sanders and one of the nation's most efficient quarterbacks in Mike Gundy. It was a Cowboy team looking for its 10th victory of the season. In 2008, OSU will arrive in San Diego with a first-team All-America receiver in Dez Bryant, a first-team All-America running back in Kendall Hunter, and one of the nation's most efficient quarterbacks in Zac

Robinson. The 2008 Cowboys are also looking for their 10th victory. Incidentally, OSU's last 10-win team was that 1988 Holiday Bowl squad.

Speaking Of Gundy

In the 2008 Holiday Bowl, Mike Gundy will make some history of his own. He will become the first former Holiday Bowl player to serve as head coach in the game. Gundy, and Barry Sanders, are members of the Holiday Bowl Hall of Fame.

The All Guys

Oklahoma State will head west with one of its most decorated teams ever as several Cowboy have earned hardware following the 2008 regular season, including two sophomores named first-team All America. The honorees include:

Dez Bryant

- First-team All-America (AFCA, Walter Camp)
- Biletnikoff Finalist
- Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Year
- First-Team All-Big 12

Matt Fodge

- Ray Guy Award winner

Kendall Hunter

- First-team All-America (FWAA)
- First Team All-Big 12
- Doak Walker Semifinalist

Russell Okung

- First-team All-Big 12

Brandon Pettigrew

- Mackey Award Finalist
- 2007 First-Team All-Big 12

Zac Robinson

- Manning Award Finalist
- Davey O'Brien Semifinalist

Mike Gundy

- George Munger Semifinalist (Maxwell National Coach of the Year)

All-Americans All Over

The selection of running back Kendall Hunter and receiver Dez Bryant to first-team All-America squads is significant for Oklahoma State. Prior to 2008, the Cowboys' last first-team All-America selection was receiver Rashaun Woods (2002 and 2003). The last Cowboy running back to earn All-America accolades was Gerald Hudson in 1990. Hunter and Bryant are the first OSU sophomores named All-American as a position player since running back Thurman Thomas in 1985. OSU has not had two first-team All-Americans since receiver Hart Lee Dykes and running back Barry Sanders in 1988.

The Matchup

The Oklahoma State Cowboys and Oregon Ducks will be meeting for the first time ever when they battle in Mission Valley. It will also be the first time the Cowboys have faced a member of the Pac-10 Conference in a bowl game and the first time OSU has faced an opponent from the state of Oregon.

West Coast Bias

As has always been the case, apparently, it's good for Cowboys to travel west. Dating back to 1984, Oklahoma State is 8-1 in games played "out west", which in this instance means Arizona, California, Hawaii and Tokyo (which is so far west it's the far east, but still west of Stillwater as the proverbial crow flies).

Facing The Pac Men

Oklahoma State is 7-9 all-time against the Pac-10 Conference. The Cowboys will be trying to win three straight against the league after knocking off UCLA in the 2004 season opener in Pasadena, and Washington State in the 2008 season opener in Seattle. Following the Holiday Bowl, Oklahoma State's next scheduled battle with the Pac-10 is the 2010 season opener against Washington State in Stillwater.

Another Ranked Opponent

Another game means another ranked opponent for Oklahoma State. The 16th ranked Oregon Ducks are the fifth member of the AP top 20 that Oklahoma State will face this season. OSU is 1-3 against AP poll members this season with all three losses (and the lone win) coming against teams ranked in the top three of the AP. In fact, OSU has not lost a game to an unranked opponent in more than 14 months (October of 2007 at Texas A&M, 24-23). Oklahoma State has not defeated a ranked opponent in a bowl game since the 1988 Holiday Bowl win over No. 15 Wyoming.

OSU AND THE POLLS

Oklahoma State enters the bowl game ranked No. 13 in the Associated Press poll. Oklahoma State has now spent 11 straight weeks in the Associated Press poll. It is OSU's longest stint in the top 25 since the 1987 and 1988 seasons when the Cowboys were ranked for 19 straight weeks. Entering the 2008 season, Oklahoma State had not been ranked since November of 2004.

Going Four-ward

Oklahoma State is 3-2 away from Stillwater this season. It is OSU's most successful season away from home since the 2003 and 2004 teams were also 3-2. A victory in the bowl game would give Oklahoma State four wins away from Stillwater for the first time since 1997.

So Long, Seniors

Fifteen members of the Oklahoma State football squad will play the last game of their careers when the Cowboys face the Oregon Ducks. The senior class includes:

- Zach Allen, LS: The ranking long snapper for OSU for each of the past four seasons
- T.J. Bell, S: Having his best year as a Cowboy as a safety and special teams player
- Brian Bowling, TE: Walk on from Tonkawa, brother of receiver Bo Bowling
- Jeray Chatham, DT: Converted o-lineman who has been a starter at DT for two seasons
- Seb Clements, LB: Walk-on who has become important member of the linebacker corps
- Zach Crissup, DB: Walk-on defensive back who began his career at Bacone
- Steve Denning, OL: Wrapping up his second straight year as a starter in the o-line
- Matt Fodge, P: One of the nation's top punters for the past three seasons
- Jacob Lacey, CB: Three-year starter at corner and an all-Big 12 candidate
- Quinton Moore, S: Starting safety with a steady senior season to his credit.

Noting the Senior Class

Oklahoma State's 2008 senior class is small, but successful. The fourth-year seniors will be playing in a third straight bowl game. That accomplishment has been achieved just twice before at Oklahoma State. Four players who redshirted in 2004, receiver Todd Nelson, linebacker Seb Clements, tight end Brandon Pettigrew and defensive back Jacob Lacey, are part of a fourth bowl team. Freshmen in 2005 were 1-7 in conference play, OSU is 12-12 against the Big 12 over their last three years. Fourth-year seniors have an overall record of 27-22. Those that have been around since 2004 are 34-27 counting their redshirt season. During their careers, OSU has gone from 1-7 in Big 12 play in 2005, to 3-5 in 2006, 4-4 in 2007 and at 5-3 in 2008.

The Spirit Of '88

Over each of the last three seasons, the Cowboy offense has drawn companions to the legendary 1988 team that featured a first-round draft pick at wide receiver (Hart Lee Dykes), a Heisman Trophy winner at running back (Barry Sanders) and the Big Eight Conference's all-time leader in passing yards and total offense at quarterback (Mike Gundy).

Heading into the 12th game of the season, the 2008 offense appears to stack up best among recent Cowboy offenses when challenging the '88 team. Take a look at OSU's numbers through 12 games this season as compared to the 11-game numbers posted by the 1988 squad.

The Runner-Up

The 2008 Cowboys figure to close the season as the second highest scoring team in Oklahoma State history. The Cowboys are averaging 41.6 points per game to rank second only to the 1988 team and its 47.5 points. The 2008 team has tied the 1988 squad with five games over the 50-point mark.

2. 2008.....	41.6
3. 2003.....	35.9
4. 2006.....	35.2

Hitting 500

Unless the Cowboys are blanked in the bowl game, the 2008 team will be just the second in school history to score 500 points. The 1988 team scored 584 points, including 62 in the Holiday Bowl. The 2008 Cowboys have scored 499 points through 12 games.

COWBOY FOOTBALL

Fair and Balanced

Oklahoma State enters the bowl game averaging 256 rushing yards per game and 233.3 passing yards per game. OSU and Tulsa are the only two schools in the country averaging at least 230 yards through the air and on the ground each contest. The numbers in 2008 continue to show OSU's commitment to balance. The Cowboys and Boise State were the only two teams in the country to average 200 yards rushing and passing in 2006. In 2007, OSU ended the year with 3,161 yards and 3,161 yards passing.

Under the Over

Despite the high flying offenses of the Big 12 Conference, the Oklahoma State defense showed statistical improvement in 2008. Nine of Oklahoma State's 12 opponents scored less than 30 points and nine were held below their season scoring averages by the Cowboys.

Turnover Turnaround

Oklahoma State forced a total of 19 turnovers last season in 13 games. The 2008 Cowboys have already surpassed that number with 23 turnovers gained through 12 contests. The Cowboy defense has recovered 12 fumbles this season after recovering just seven in 2007. OSU has 11 interceptions this season, one shy of last year's 13-game total.

Bang For The Buck

Not only are the Cowboys turning over the opposition, OSU is making use of its extra possessions. Over the last nine games, Oklahoma State has scored nine touchdowns and three field goals after a turnover, including two defensive touchdowns against Texas A&M. At No. 3 Missouri, the Cowboys' final touchdown (the eventual difference in the game) was set up by Andre Sexton's 39-yard interception return. OSU's final points at Texas were set up by a Jacob Lacey interception.

Senior Hazing

Oklahoma State stormed into the Associated Press rankings largely behind its offense. Make that its youthful offense -- as in every single point that has been scored this season has been registered by a player that is expected back next season. The scoring breakdown by class:

Class Points Pct Of Team Total

Sophomores	339	67.9
Juniors	160	32.1

The Class of Sophomores

There can be little argument that Oklahoma State's Dez Bryant and running back Kendall Hunter comprise the top sophomore duo in America. Bryant is third nationally in receiving with 109 yards per game and 1,313 yards for the season. Among the top 10 receivers in the country, Bryant's 17.7 yards per catch is among the best. Hunter averages 6.7 yards per carry and is sixth nationally with an average of 126.5 yards per game (1,518 rushing yards). Both players are first-team All-Americans.

1,000/1,000

The 2008 season marks the fifth time in Oklahoma State history (and the second straight year) that the Cowboys have featured a 1,000-yard rusher and a 1,000-yard receiver.

Batting 1000 -- Twice

Year	Rusher	Receiver
1988	Barry Sanders, 2,628	Hart Lee Dykes, 1,278
2002	Tatum Bell, 1,096	Rashaun Woods, 1,695
2003	Tatum Bell, 1,286	Rashaun Woods, 1,367
2007	Dantrell Savage, 1,272	Adarius Bowman, 1,006
2008	Kendall Hunter, 1,434	Dez Bryant, 1,222

Feet and Hands

For the first time in OSU history, the Cowboys will have a duo reach 1,300 yards in rushing and receiving. Kendall Hunter has rushed for 1,518 yards while Dez Bryant has reached 1,313 receiving yards.

Soph Feet

At a school with a running back tradition that can stack up against anyone, Kendall Hunter's sophomore season continues. Hunter is the nation's sixth leading rusher (despite being limited to just 11 carries for 102 yards at Colorado) with an average of 126.5 yards per game. His nine 100-yard rushing games are nearly twice as many as any other Big 12 runner. His rushing total of 1,518 yards to date make him the second most prolific sophomore back in OSU history, behind only Thurman Thomas. Take a look at Thomas' sophomore season compared to Hunter's 2008 campaign.

Then And Now

Year	Runner	Att	Yds	YPC	TD	YPG
1985	Thurman Thomas*	327	1,650	5.1	15	137.5
2008	Kendall Hunter	728	1,518	6.7	14	126.5

THE 100 Club

Kendall Hunter's nine 100-yard rushing games this season have him mixing with some impressive company in the all-time Cowboy backfield. The single-season record for 100-yard rushing games in a season is 12, set during Barry Sanders' Heisman Trophy season.

100-yd

Rusher	Games	Year	Worth Noting
Barry Sanders	12	1988	Won the Heisman
Terry Miller	11	1977	Heisman runner-up
Dantrell Savage	10	2007	First-team all-Big 12
Thurman Thomas	10	1987	2-time All-American
Kendall Hunter	9	2008	All-American
Vernand Morency	9	2004	All-Big 12 and NFL RB
Ernest Anderson	9	1982	Led NCAA in rushing
Terry Miller	9	1976	All American

Kendall Meets the Legends

Kendall Hunter became just the third Cowboy sophomore rusher to reach 1,000 yards in a season with his 161 yard effort at Texas. The only other sophs to accomplish the feat were Thurman Thomas, who rushed for 1,650 yards in 1985 and Terry Miller, who ran for 1,076 yards in 1975. Thomas was a two time All-American while Miller was a Heisman Trophy runner-up during his career.

Measuring Success

Now that Kendall Hunter is firmly entrenched as part of OSU's top 20 all-time rushers (No. 12 entering the bowl game) it is interesting to compare his career to date to with some of OSU's legendary running backs. For his career, Hunter averages 6.6 yards per carry on 306 totes. That number would be second best in OSU history if it is maintained for the rest of his career. OSU's all-time leading rusher, Thurman Thomas, averaged 5.1 yards per carry. The best per carry averages from OSU's all-time leading rushers:

Career Per Carry

Player	Per Carry	Career Yards	Att
Barry Sanders	6.8	3,556	523
Kendall Hunter	6.6	2,214	335
Dantrell Savage	6.0	2,092	351
Andre Richardson	6.0	1,960	325
Vernand Morency	5.9	2,661	451

Hunter Tidbits

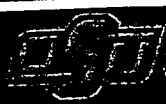

Kendall Hunter has recorded 14 rushing touchdowns this season with 10 of those scores coming from more than 20 yards out. To date, his 2,434 rushing yards rank No. 11 on OSU's single-season list. His 14 rushing TDs represent the sixth best single-season total in OSU history and are the most by a Cowboy since Tatum Bell ran for 16 touchdowns in 2003. Hunter is currently No. 12 all-time at OSU with 2,214 rushing yards.

OSU Career Rushing Yards

1. Thurman Thomas (1984-87)	4,599
2. Terry Miller (1974-77)	4,581
3. David Thompson (1993-96)	4,314
4. Barry Sanders (1986-88)	3,556
9. Vernand Morency (2002-04)	2,661
10. Bob Fenimore (1943-46)	2,299
11. Worley Taylor (1977-80)	2,217
12. Kendall Hunter (2007)	2,214

Second Best

Kendall Hunter averages 6.6 yards per carry in 2008. That impressive number will not, however, impress his backup. Keith Toston, who has rushed for 658 yards this season with nine scores, averages 7.0 yards per carry. Another Cowboy runner, Beau Johnson, is gaining 6.2 yards on his 58 attempts.

COWBOY FOOTBALL

A Moment With Dez

Oklahoma State sophomore receiver Dez Bryant was a highly recruited prepster. He had a strong freshman season and put up impressive numbers when senior wideout Adarius Bowman was temporarily lost to injury. However, even those clippings could not properly set the stage for a sophomore season that has become one of the best in Oklahoma State history and one of the tops in the country in 2008.

Bryant on the NCAA Charts

- Tied for the national lead with two punt returns for scores
- Ranks second with 18 touchdown receptions (OSU single-season record)
- Ranks third with 17.9 yards per punt return
- Ranks third with 109 receiving yards per game
- Ranks fourth with 10 points per game
- Ranks No. 27 with 143.2 all-purpose yards per game

Brandon's Back

After being sidelined by injury for much of the early going, first-team all-Big 12 tight end Brandon Pettigrew is returning to form. In fact, he has been named a finalist for the John Mackey Award, which is presented annually to the nation's top tight end. Through the first seven games of the season, Pettigrew had just 11 catches covering 131 yards. Over the last five games, Pettigrew has 25 catches for 290 yards. Pettigrew now has 1,399 career receiving yards to rank No. 10 all-time. He is seventh all-time with 106 receptions and is the first Cowboy tight end to reach triple figures in catches.

A Sliding Scale

It is no secret that the Oklahoma State offense has improved every season under fourth-year head coach Mike Gundy, but even by OSU's rapidly-changing standards, the 2008 Cowboy attack has been more than impressive to date when stacking up against past totals. A glance:

OSU Offense Under Gundy

Year	Tot. Off.	Rank	Scoring	Rank
2005	324.8	92	20.18	96
2006	409.8	16	35.2	7
2007	486.3	7	34.6	22
2008	492.6	7	41.6	7

Driving School

Oklahoma State's 12-game drive chart puts into perspective the Cowboys' offensive attack.

- OSU has scored 26 times in less than two minutes of game play.
- The Cowboys have scored six times on plays from more than 50 yards away (not including special teams).
- Oklahoma State has scored on five plays or less 29 times.
- OSU has 28 scoring drives of more than 70 yards (including a 99-yarder vs. Troy and a 92-yarder vs. Iowa State).

Many Happy Returns

There is little doubt that Oklahoma State's return game ranks among the nation's elite. OSU is 12th nationally in kickoff returns and No. 3 in punt returns. And the good news for OSU is that it is a team effort on both special teams units.

- OSU has seven punt returns of 20 yards or more.
- Six of those returns are by Dez Bryant, including cross-country treks of 78 and 71 yards for touch downs.
- Aside from Dez Bryant, Ricky Price had a 68-yard punt return at Washington State.
- OSU has seven kickoff returns of at least 36 yards, including a 90 yarder for a score by Perrish Cox against OU and Washington State for scores.
- Perrish Cox is No. 4 nationally with an average of 30.1 yards per kickoff return.
- OSU has five kickoff returns of more than 50 yards.
- True freshman safety Victor Johnson got into the act with a 52-yard at Texas and a 39-yarder at Colorado.

Fodge Podge

OSU has a potent weapon in its arsenal in senior punter Matt Fodge. OSU is second nationally in net punting (40.7 yards) because Fodge has punted 31 times, but the opposition has a season total of just 51 return yards, despite six punts in excess of 50 yards. Seven of Fodge's punts have been fair caught, 17 have been downed inside the 20 (giving him 64 career punts inside the 20). Against Missouri, he had a 69-yard punt downed at the Missouri five and at Texas Tech he had a 71-yarder downed at the Red Raider three. Fodge would rank No. 11 nationally in punting if he had enough attempts to qualify for the NCAA statistics with his average of 44.1 yards. Fodge was recently named as a Ray Guy Award finalist. The award is presented annually by the Augusta (Georgia) Sports Council to the nation's top punter.

Quick Hits

- OSU has played four true freshmen this season, including tight end Jamal Mosley, and defensive backs Victor Johnson, Markelle Martin and Johnny Thomas.
- 14 different Cowboys have scored through the first nine games of the season.
- OSU is averaging 7.2 yards per offensive snap.
- Oklahoma State set a new stadium attendance record vs. Troy with a crowd of 52,463 on hand for the OSU win.
- OSU has set a new season ticket record with sales at 39,883.
- The Oklahoma State-Texas game was played in front of 98,518 fans. It was the largest crowd ever to see a game in the state of Texas.

By the Decade

Part of it can be attributed to an ever-lengthening college football season, but with more than one full season to go, the current decade is already the second most successful in Cowboy football history in terms of victories. OSU enters the bowl game with 59 wins since the beginning of the 2000 season. Only in the 1980s, when OSU went 71-43-2, did the school win more than 57 games in a decade. OSU has already won 18 more games this decade than it did in all of the 1990s.

The Young Guns

Oklahoma State has 15 seniors on its roster. That total is 10th lowest among the nation's power conferences, tying the Cowboys with Arizona State, Colorado and Notre Dame for the 10th spot. Minnesota and North Carolina have the smallest senior classes from the power leagues with 11 each. Of the 15 Cowboy seniors, three are walk-ons and two are specialists.

Boone Pickens Stadium

Moving Day is Getting Closer:

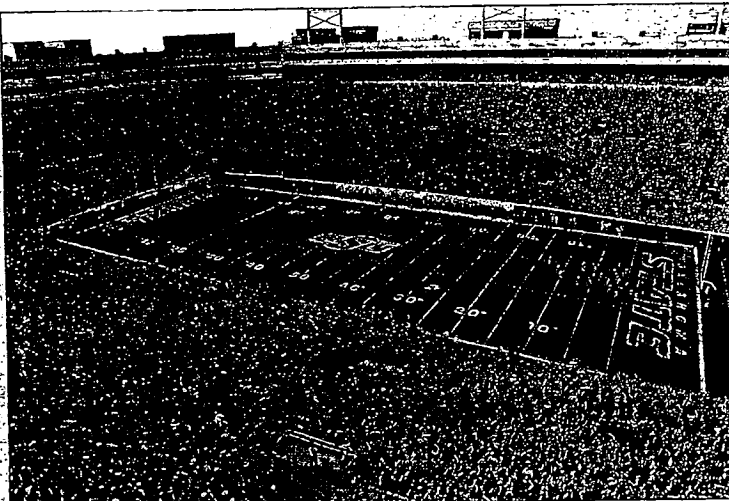

Before the opening of the 2009 football season, the home of Cowboy football will officially move about 100 yards west and straight into the future.

The west end zone of Boone Pickens Stadium is now open for fan occupancy on game days. By next spring, it will house all operations of Cowboy football in facilities that will absolutely rival any in college athletics.

Not only will the west end zone serve as headquarters for the Cowboy coaching staff with offices at the club level, the facility will include a new OSU locker room, speed and strength center, equipment room, hall of fame, athletic training center, theater room, meeting rooms, video operations, media center, and a dining area that will serve as the team training table.

The west end zone is so inclusive that Bullet will have his own stall.

The west end zone and the new Boone Pickens Stadium will officially be open for business when the Georgia Bulldogs visit to open the 2009 season.

OSU'S West End Zone Project:

- The completed horseshoe will raise seating capacity to more than 60,000 and will put in place more than 100 suites around the rim of the stadium. A new video board and a ribbon board will encircle the stadium.
- The site of the new dining area that will be utilized by OSU's student-athletes will offer views of the stadium as well as the OSU campus. It will seat at least 300.
- The team theater room will accommodate more than 200 and could be utilized for a variety of special events. The facility will include surround sound and can serve in a variety of ways – from a movie theater to a classroom to an interview room.
- A state-of-the-art athletic training facility will be located just steps from the Cowboy locker room and will encompass 8,000 square feet with four pools for hydrotherapy.
- Offices for the coaching staff will be housed on the club level of the west end zone and will feature stadium views and balconies for game-day seating.
- The entire west end zone project will feature 1.1 million square feet, including 700,000 square feet with conditioned air.
- Convenience, Convenience, Convenience. The project will include a 12,000-square-foot locker room that is located just steps away from the speed and strength center, athletic training center, equipment room and meeting rooms. The locker room will be big enough to host the team as well as offensive, defensive and special teams meetings during halftime. The locker room size will double OSU's current dressing quarters.
- The players' custom-designed lockers will include equipment and shoe ventilation, as well as embossed glass name plates that players take with them upon graduation.
- The football-only speed and strength center will spread over more than 20,000 square feet and will include a sprint track for timings and conditioning.
- A mammoth equipment room, covering roughly 14,000 square feet, will be a model of efficiency and organization for the players as well as coaches and staff.
- The history of Cowboy football will be prominently displayed on several levels of the west end zone, including a vestibule near the Cowboy locker room, as well as a 5,000 square foot football gallery located near the main entrance of the football operations center.
